FOR CONTINUANCE OF KELLEY TRIAL
UNTIL SEPTEMBER

Can't Be Located—At-

Weather Too Hot.

PROSECUTOR READY, OPPOSES DELAY

Four Kidnaping Defendants in Court At Clayton—Expected to Take Sever-ances if Denied Postponement.

Continuance until September of the trial of three men and one woman, charged with kidnaping Dr. D. C. Kelley for ransom in April, 1933, was requested today in Circuit Judge Nott's court at Clayton. Previously prosecuting Attorney Anderson had announced the State was ready for trial of all four defendants.

Vernie R. C. Lacy, counsel for three of the defendants, Mrs. Nellie Tipton Muench, Bart Davis and Felix McDonald, presented the continuance motion, which had six counts and stated four distinct reasons why, in the view of the court, the accused persons were not ready for trial. Angelo Rosegrant is the fourth of the defendants. The reasons alleged were:

Absence of Tom Galanos, St. Charles restaurant proprietor, described as a defense witness. The defense states that he would testify that Adolf Fiedler, former Maplewood Justice of the Peace, a State principal witness, promised that money would be paid to him if he would testify that he had seen Mrs. Muench in his restaurant with Rosegrant; also that, on his denial and refusal to testify for the State, he (Galanos) was assaulted by deputy sheriffs.

The recent trial of Attorney Lacy in St. Louis on the charge of corrupting a juror in the Richards-Berg kidnaping case, which prevented him from holding conferences with defendants and co-counsel necessary to preparation of the case; and Lacy's present state of health, declared to render him unable to take part in the trial now.

Inability of the defense to take depositions of about 50 witnesses, including Dr. Kelley and Fiedler. "The intense heat, rendering it impossible for the jury to apply to the issue careful and impartial consideration."

Says Witness Was Beaten. The affidavit as to Galanos sets forth that he has filed suit for $500, alleging false arrest, against Sheriff Deuser and three deputies. It states that, while Galanos could not be located in a recent search, it is likely that he will be on hand in September. His suit was filed in Circuit Court last Tuesday.

Galanos is declared in the affidavit to be a competent and material witness. The affidavit says he would testify that March 23 he was arrested and taken to the Sheriff's office at Clayton, and that he was questioned there by Frank Lewis and O. J. Litzinger, Deputy Sheriffs, in the presence of Arnold Williams, chief deputy, as to whether he knew the defendants.

The affidavit states that Galanos, if available as a witness, would testify that he denied knowing the defendants, and that Lewis and Litzinger then assaulted him. Later in that day, it states, Williams asked Galanos to "help the Sheriff out in the prosecution."

The affidavit states that Galanos would testify that March 29 he was taken by the officers into the presence of Fiedler, and that Fiedler "offered" to see that he was paid a considerable sum of money if he would testify falsely that he had seen Mrs. Nellie Muench in his restaurant at St. Charles, in company with Angelo Rosegrant.

"When the witness refused to agree to perjure himself," the affidavit continues, "Fiedler called Sheriff Deuser and instructed him to send out and arrest Nellie Muench immediately. Fiedler told Galanos he was going to testify that he had seen Nellie Muench in his restaurant at St. Charles. At the time in question, Galanos was in his restaurant continuously, and saw Nellie Muench there."

Lacy Busy With Own Trial. The paragraph of the affidavit as to Lacy's preoccupation with his own trial states that he was unable to give attention to the Kelley case from June 18 to June 30, the latter the date of his acquittal. His present physical condition, the

CONFESSES KILLING
3 FELLOW THIEVES

Oklahoma Prisoner Says He Got Tired of Being Blamed for Everything.

By the Associated Press.

McALESTER, Ok., July 9.—The signed confession of a young hill country bad-man admitting the premeditated killing of three alleged accomplices in petty thievery was in the hands of County Attorney Frank Watson today.

Watson said Bm Riley, 25 years old, Canadian, Ok., admitted he shot and killed Homer Beasley, Hobart Watkins and William Gann, whose bodies were found near Canadian, June 25. He quoted Riley as saying he would plead guilty to three murder charges.

After signing the confession last night, Riley was moved from the jail to the State penitentiary here for safe keeping.

Riley said he had planned for months to kill the three, and had told them as much. They were implicated with him, he told Watson, in a series of burglaries and small holdups extending over a period of more than eight years.

"They were in on every job I was in," he said, "and every time they tried to put it off on me. I got tired of it."

The County Attorney quoted Riley as telling how he deceived his victims into the woods—Beasley and Watkins one night, Gann the next day—and there killed them with a shotgun.

"I'd do it again," he said, defiantly.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, July 9.—An American woman, Pauline Jacobson Levine, 35 years old, was ordered today by Magistrate Andre Benon to appear for questioning in a new drive to clean up an alleged international ring of spies.

She was to be questioned regarding her relation to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gordon Switz of New Jersey, who have been held in Paris jail for several months under espionage charges.

Six other summonses or warrants were issued in connection with the alleged espionage service with which the Switzes are linked. These included three women and three men. One of the women was Mrs. Marie Schul Martin, alleged chief of a section of the ring operating in Finland.

JUDGE ORDERS INSULT TRIED

Denies Last Preliminary Motion

CHICAGO, July 9.—The last technical obstacle to the trial of Samuel Insull was removed today and Federal Judge James H. Wilkeson set the case for Sept. 18.

Judge Wilkeson refused the defense's final preliminary motion, a request for a bill of particulars of the charges. Insull and 16 others who directed the Corporation Securities Co. were accused of misusing the mails in attracting investors to buy the company's securities.

HITLER AID CALLS FOR PEACE BUT GIVES HANDS-OFF NOTICE TO WORLD

Rudolf Hess, Close Associate of Hitler, Says in Speech That Germany Has 'New Spirit' and Will Resist Interference.

SPECIAL APPEAL MADE TO FRANCE

Address Has Close Connection, Observers Note, to Visit of Barthou to London in Search of Security Agreements.

(Copyright, 1934, by the Associated Press.)
BERLIN, July 9.—Rudolf Hess, close associate of Chancellor Hitler, pleaded, in an address to 12,000 Nazis at Koenigsberg yesterday for a German understanding with France, but, on the other hand, dared any foreign army to attack Germany.

Hess, after recounting the horrors of war, declared: "I, as a veteran to veterans across the border, I, as a leader of one people, ask the leaders of other peoples: must this be? Can we not by mutual good will spare humanity another war?"

Talk Broadcast to Nation.
The Hess speech was broadcast throughout the nation. Translations were then broadcast throughout the world.

The appeal to France was underscored by Hess as he suddenly switched from German to French and shouted, speaking of the miseries of war:

"Malheur pour nous, malheur pour vous, et malheur pour tout, pour le monde." (Unhappiness for us, unhappiness for you, unhappiness for all, for the world.)

"I turn to the comrades of the front, both here and on the other side of the trenches," said Hess. "Be honest, did you, unhappiness, horror at the thought of death?"

"When hand grenades were hurled at us, when poisonous gas threatened to choke us, despite our gas masks, when we heard the cries of anguish from the dying, when horror of every kind surrounded us, did we not ask ourselves, 'Cannot humanity be spared all this?'"

"To be sure, out there in the trenches we felt ourselves real men. We knew we were defending the Fatherland. We would not have missed the experience."

Hess to Avoid War.
"Yet, we, the first fighters, want to avoid another war wherein the trench soldiers will again pay the bill."

"I say as a veteran to veterans across the border, I, as a leader of one people, ask the leaders of other peoples: Must this be? Can we not by mutual good will spare humanity another war?"

Hess then told why he hitherto had not supported pleas for international understanding.

"I will tell you why," said Hess. "Because my voice would have joined voices of traitors to our people, the voices of those who sacrificed the honor of our nation, whose conscience as far as Germany is concerned rests on the Versailles treaty."

"Today I may speak because a man of my nation has rehabilitated Germany's honor before the world, because this man silenced the voices of traitors, because the whole world knows the National Socialist fighter is no coward."

"Today I may speak because the leader of my people himself stretches out the hand of peace to the world."

"Today I must speak because I thereby am supporting the man who is trying at the last minute to avert a catastrophe."

The New Germany.
"I raise my voice, also, however," he said, "because I want to warn the world against mistaking the Germany of today—the Germany of Germany of yesterday—of the Germany of tomorrow."

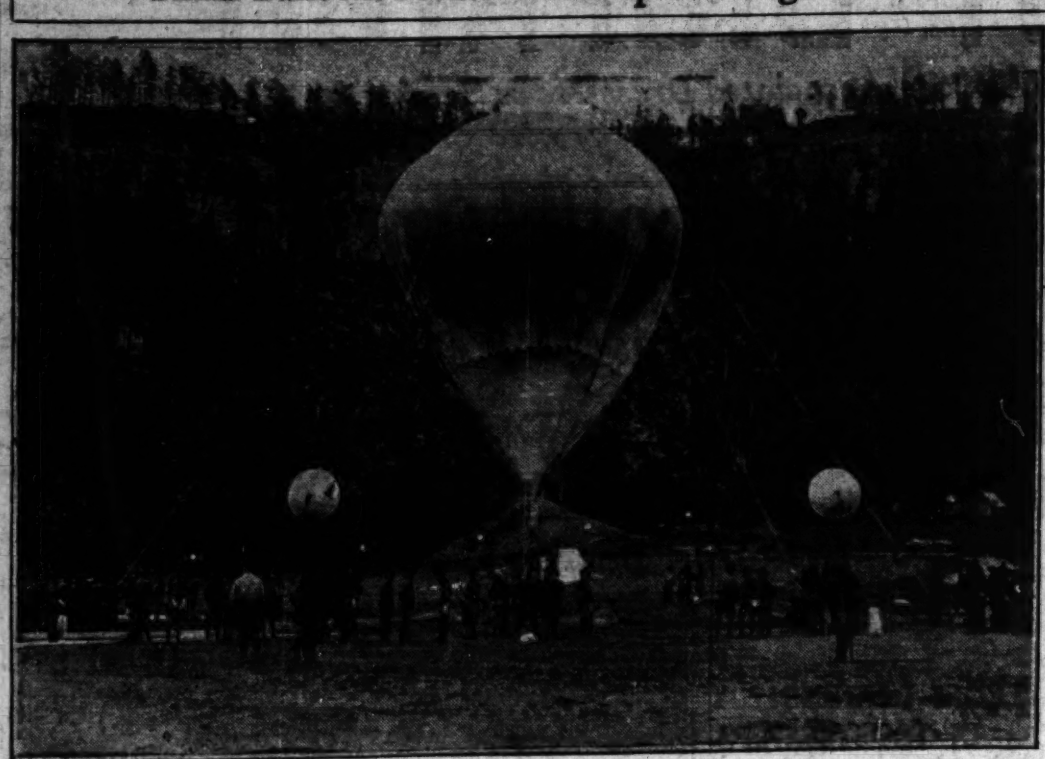

Remembered: despite terrors of war, the younger as little as the older is not open country, people, duty, all their

Small Balloon Used in Stratosphere Flight Test

THE army ground crew at Rapid City, S. D., is shown inflating the balloon with which Maj. William E. Kepner and Capt. A. W. Stevens made an ascent out of the natural "bow" Saturday. The main stratosphere balloon has about 100 times the capacity of this one.

power and would do so again in case of need, just so we Germans would defend our today.

"The French trench soldier will especially understand us if we say to those who play with the idea of war: just you dare attack us! Just you dare to march into Germany!"

"The world would then learn to feel the spirit of new Germany. It would fight as no people ever yet fought for liberty."

Hess then paid a compliment to the French.

"We don't believe that any people wants to disturb the peace of Europe," he said. "We especially are unwilling to believe it of the French people."

"We know this people, too, longs for peace. We trench fighters remember France's population behind the lines always regarded the war as a misfortune for itself and for the world."

"Honest sympathy was greeted the utterances of French organizations of war veterans demanding an honest understanding with Germany."

"France's soldiers know how bravely Germans fought for four and a half years."

"The front fighters want peace. The peoples want peace. Germany's government wants peace."

"With an evident effort to placate French Foreign Minister Louis Barthou, now in England, Hess then said:

"One may share the conviction that Mr. Barthou also desires peace. Despite various turns in his speeches that sound capocapious to the ears of people ready for an understanding."

"For Barthou is a man who combines political foresight with personal culture, yet who states proudly he admires Richard Wagner and his works."

"It is not without intention, probably, that at Geneva he emphasized that he knows German intellectual and spiritual life thoroughly."

"It is therefore not impossible that he might in the last analysis take German conditions into account and this decisively in the pacification of Europe."

"There is no doubt but that a boon would come from an understanding between Germany and France not only to these states in their entirety but to each individual of the two peoples."

"To put concretely, every Frenchman and German would have a better income, real peace, real confidence between people, makes possible reduction of armaments which today swallow a great part of the incomes of nations and thereby of the individual citizens."

Hess expressed the opinion that once equality of armaments was vouchsafed, Germany "would be more easily satisfied with a minimum armament for security as a guarantee of peace."

A defenseless country, he claimed, represents a danger to peace in the foreign armies in an attempt to avert troubles at home might be tempted to invade a defenseless country.

Observers interpreted Hess' address as closely tied with the visit to London of Barthou and the concern of other nations over recent killings in Germany.

Hess appeared in the brown uniform of the Storm Troopers and in his brief introductory remarks said that the recent executions were "essential to avoid civil war which would have brought Bolshevism and its attendant miseries to Germany."

The Dutch Communist disturbances show, he said, that although foreign politicians do not love the German Government, they have cause to be grateful to it for the eradication of the "Bolshevik menace" here.

"Many could not understand why Der Fuehrer (Hitler) had not struck earlier," he said, "but events have shown he knew his mind, that he was right."

Stratosphere Flyers Hope to Get Facts on Vital, Unseen Forces

They Aim to Bring Down Data on Discoveries "in New World Just as Truly as Did Columbus."

(By the Associated Press.)
RAPID CITY, S. D., July 9.—Officials of the National Geographic Society and Army Air Corps are waiting hopefully for the favorable weather they must have for the safe stratosphere voyage of their 3,000,000-cubic foot capacity balloon.

Maj. William E. Kepner and Capt. Albert W. Stevens, who will be pilot and scientific observer, announced all preparations had been completed for an immediate ascent.

Geographic Society and army officials in Washington have selected "The Explorer" as the name for the "light metal gondola."

Reasons for Name.
An official statement announcing the name said it "tells in a word the object of the unique expedition far above the earth," and added: "The gondola of the balloon which soon will rise far into the stratosphere is more fully equipped for the history of the German people."

The expedition will explore the upper stratosphere itself and the unseen forces so vital to the world below that play on its outwardly calm spaces. It is hoped to bring back to earth as a result of its explorations new facts from a new world as truly as did Columbus when he crossed an unknown sea of water."

Pouring liquid air on the gondola from one of the containers to be taken on the flight, Mrs. Tom Berry, wife of South Dakota's Governor, will christen the gondola in a ceremony at the expedition's camp, Moonlight Valley, at 5:30 p. m. today. No mention was made in the official statement of the champagne which was brought from Denver by airplane especially for the christening, but presumably the flight sponsors reconsidered in view of South Dakota's rigid dry laws.

Slight Leak Repaired.
A slight leak in the ballast-dumping device, revealed by the six and one-half hour "sealed-in" test Saturday, was repaired yesterday by Kepner and Stevens. At the same time Maj. E. L. Hoffman, designer of the 85-foot parachute intended to retard the gondola's drop in case the balloon leaks or is damaged, made alterations in the rigging as a result of observations of the trial flight Saturday.

The weather station established in Moonlight Valley receives reports from all parts of the country. For the flight clear, still weather must be in prospect not only at the take-off point but 600 to 800 miles south-east where the landing is expected.

Downtown, scores of persons were recording with the American Legion guesses as to where the huge craft would land. Guesses ranged from as near as 40 miles from Moonlight Valley, scene of the take-off, to Quebec, Canada, approximately 1800 miles.

KILLS WIFE WHILE SON IS STRAITENING OUT FINANCES
New York Farmer Walks Down Road to Meet Youth and Returns With Him.

(By the Associated Press.)
DUNKIRK, N. Y., July 9.—Albert Horlacher Sr., 51 years old, shot and killed his wife, Susan, 49, in their farm home, three miles west of Fredonia, yesterday. Walking up the road he met his son, Albert Horlacher Jr., Chicago, who was returning from Fredonia, where he had gone to make arrangements to solve some of his father's financial difficulties. He told his father he had been successful and the father, the police report, replied:

"Too late, your mother is dead." They drove home and the son called the police.

The shooting occurred in the kitchen while Mrs. Horlacher was making pies. One bullet struck her in the head and another in the back.

JOHNSON TO LET 5 AIDS TRY TO RUN NRA FOR AWHILE

Administrator, for Vacation, Is Going to Swing Around the Country Making Speeches.

(By the Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, July 9.—Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, NRA administrator, was clearing up his desk today, preparatory to turning over most of his work to five assistants for the rest of the summer. He wants to see, he said, how the NRA can get along without him. The tryout, purely informal, is intended to give Johnson a chance to get some rest.

A last-minute rush of affairs was before him today. Among problems that awaited him return from a week of rest and conferences in New York were:

Promulgation of one big code for 450 small industries.

NRA's price policy. This needs further clarification, especially President Roosevelt's 15 per cent "tolerance" order, which permits concerns belonging to "open price" codes to go as much as 15 per cent below listed code prices.

Steel and some other industries are reported to be seeking exemption from this tolerance.

Selecting the administration member of the code authority for the bread industry. This code became effective today.

A 50-page report, ordered by President Roosevelt, on salaries and moving picture stars. This is expected to be turned in soon.

Johnson's idea of a rest, it was disclosed, is a swing around the country talking about the NRA. Plans for the tour are tentative.

Johnson is expected to travel to the Pacific, beginning his speeches Wednesday at Waterloo, Ia.

Meantime, the five-man board will run the NRA except for such major duties, revealed by the six and one-half hour "sealed-in" test Saturday, was repaired yesterday by Kepner and Stevens. At the same time Maj. E. L. Hoffman, designer of the 85-foot parachute intended to retard the gondola's drop in case the balloon leaks or is damaged, made alterations in the rigging as a result of observations of the trial flight Saturday.

MISSOURI OFFICIAL REQUESTS INQUIRY INTO COAL PRICES

Attorney-General Asks Supreme Court to Appoint Commissioner to Hold Hearings.

(By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.)
JEFFERSON CITY, July 9.—Attorney-General McKittick announced today he would request the Supreme Court of Missouri to appoint a special commissioner for hearings as to whether State anti-trust laws are being violated in practices and prices under the NRA coal code.

The Attorney-General or any one else may present evidence at such hearings, examining witnesses under oath. The Attorney-General has the right to subpoena any one on whom service can be obtained to testify. The procedure is far-reaching.

It has been the past practice of the Supreme Court to honor applications of the Attorney-General for special commissioners in anti-trust hearings. The appointment of a commissioner is made by the Chief Justice, usually in consultation with his colleagues. The commissioner would conduct the hearings, after which the Attorney-General would decide whether the evidence justified filing of anti-trust suits against parties concerned.

Thinks Inquiry Warranted.
"From the facts now available," said McKittick, "I believe a full investigation is warranted, and that is why I am adopting this course."

McKittick will go to St. Louis Wednesday to consult with interested persons about the investigation. He will be at the Mayfair Hotel that afternoon. Among those with whom he said he would confer are City Council Mayor or a representative, W. E. Dodson of the Coal Service Co., who has led dealers complaining against code prices of coal; Mrs. Roscoe Anderson, head of the St. Louis & St. Louis County Consumers' Council of the NRA, which has objected to code prices; Mayor George A. Brechtnitz of Belleville, Ill., who telegraphed McKittick that he was collecting information on the subject, and representatives of trucking interests which have complained that some dealers were charging code prices but paying low wages to truckers bringing supplies from Illinois mines to St. Louis.

The Attorney-General hopes to return here Thursday, with the intention of filing his application with the Court as soon as possible, probably this week.

Price-Fixing Alleged.
It is asserted in complaints McKittick has received that code provisions amount to a combination to fix prices and restrain trade in violation of State anti-trust laws. The inquiry will not be limited to the St. Louis district, although objections have come from there principally. Many complaints also were received from the Kansas City and Southwest Missouri regions.

Attorney-General McKittick today received a letter from J. R. Todd, general sales agent of the Hy-Test Fuel Co. of Pittsburg, Kan., charging the anti-trust laws were being violated by coal operators and that shippers "are supposed to gouge as much as possible."

"The wholesale price of coal is arbitrarily established by a committee functioning under the coal code and we and all other shippers are supposed to gouge as much as possible, depending on the opportunities. Certain portions of Missouri have different prices all shippers are to charge, and certain cities have still different prices," Todd said. "There is no part of Missouri where we are not supposed to gouge a higher price than the same merchandise in Iowa and other places."

Old Group Controls, He Says.
"In so far as Missouri prices for coal produced in Missouri and Kansas are concerned, the code under the jurisdiction of a bureau that existed before there was any NRA. This bureau was nothing less than a combine and was defeated in successfully maintaining its position through no other means than our own company and the mining portions under our control. It subsequently has successfully foisted itself off on the coal industry of Missouri and Kansas through the coal code and has imposed its will on the coal industry of Missouri and Kansas as doing regularly."

He declared depositions could be produced from large retail coal dealers in Kansas City that they had been quoted prices contrary to the code provisions.

"Yet, our mines are under constant surveillance and check-up," Todd said, "in the hope apparently that we can be caught doing the identical thing other interests in the wholesale coal business of Missouri and Kansas are doing regularly."

Frontlines to Cut Cost.
"We and eight producing coal companies mining coal in Missouri and Kansas, with a tonnage of approximately 400,000 tons annually, are prepared to furnish coal to Missouri State institutions, municipalities, schools and the public generally at substantially less cost than the code seeks to impose," Todd wrote, "and if the Attorney-General will furnish us protection in the manner of an injunction to restrain the coal code representatives from interfering with these sales we will agree to contract with Missouri State institutions and the public of Missouri for the delivery of coal that will represent the saving of thousands of dollars."

"At the same time," Todd said, "we will raise a reasonable profit, pay NRA wages and employ our men NRA hours."

Charles P. Melton of St. Louis, administration member of the divisional coal code authority, sent the Attorney-General a telegram last week, offering assistance in the inquiry. Melton told the Consumers' Council last month no facts had developed calling for downward modification of prices. The council has begun an investigation of the price of coal in St. Louis as fixed since May 20 by the divisional code authority.

Schedules of minimum retail prices for Illinois coal in St. Louis, under the code varied originally from $4.80 a ton for standard screenings to $6.80 a ton for large grade A lump coal, with a rate of $5.80 a ton for standard coal from nearby Illinois mines, used widely in St. Louis. The code authority estimated the average increase over pre-code prices was 29 per cent, standard coal having been $4.50 a ton. Last week increases of 5 and 10 cents a ton on the principal grades of coal used in St. Louis was promulgated by the code authority, which attributed this largely to a seasonal revision of mine prices.

PRICE-FIXING CODE FOR BAKING FIRMS GOES INTO EFFECT
NRA Agreement Forbids Baker to Sell Bread for Less Than Scale Adopted in His Area.
JOHNSON FORESEES NO HARM TO CONSUMERS
Administrator Is Counting on Competition in Industry to Prevent Profiteering.
WASHINGTON, July 9.—The billion-dollar baking industry began operating under its NRA code today. It is estimated 25,000 bakeries will come under the fair practice agreement affecting wages, working hours and trade matters.
NRA Administrator Johnson says that "competition is so keen that the number of establishments is so great that little likelihood exists of the development of a price structure detrimental to the consumer or of inordinate profits of the industry."
"A further safeguard," he has named Karl Hauck of the NRA Consumers' Advisory Board as "full-time adviser to the administration number of the code authority in order that studies made in various market areas where destructive price-cutting appears and the intervention of the administrator is requested."
Bakers' Strike of Chicago, chairman of the National Bakers' Council, assured Johnson: "The baking industry sees in the code not only an opportunity to make further contribution to the recovery program, but an opportunity to develop a sound, forward-looking industrial plan. To this end a group has been created, separate and apart from the group devoted to organization and enforcement. This group will study and analyze the industry from all angles and develop a program for the industry—a program that will enable us to turn the resourcefulness and energy of the industry into a new era of better living and better working conditions." He estimated the industry has 200,000 employees.
The code empowers the code authority, the National Bakers' Council, to set up with Johnson's approval market areas "to the end that a certain amount of protection against invasion of high cost areas by low cost areas may be afforded, in order to protect existing wage scales and employment standards in these high cost areas."
Each member must sell bread on the basis of prices fixed with the code authorities for marketing areas he serves. He is prohibited from selling below his quoted prices or below cost "except to meet a competitor's price not in violation of the code."
Members may file revised price lists from time to time. Temporary at least, they will become immediately effective. President Roosevelt in his order approving the code stated for 60 days a provision requiring a five-day period before new prices are effective.
Wages and Working Hours.
The code authority, with the administrator's approval, is authorized to fix minimum prices in areas where an emergency is declared to exist because of destructive price cutting.
As an open price industry, the bakers also would be subject to Mr. Roosevelt's recent order permitting 15 per cent tolerance below minimum code prices in bids on Government contracts and directing the setting of such prices with code authorities.
The code provides a 40-hour week for mechanical and large handcraft bakers and 48 hours for small handcraft retail bakers. The wage minimum is 40 cents an hour with a 5-cent differential in the south.
St. Louis Bakers Not Sure What Effect Code Will Have on Competition.
Large St. Louis bakeries have not determined the effect on the price of bread under the NRA baking code. Officers of the companies today said it was too soon to tell what might happen.
The price of bread is controlled partly through the weight of the loaf. One baker said the standard loaf approximated 6 1/2 cents a pound, although the size and shape of loaves varied widely. Another asserted it was difficult to tell standard price, as there had been a "war" here for a year.
There is a zone code committee headed by Albert F. Wells, president-manager of the Colonial Baking Co. He has been out of town.

SHIRTLESS SWIMMING WINS AT SUNSET HILL
Men in Trunks Almost as Fully Covered as Women in Sun-Tan Outfits.
Sunset Hill Country Club members are in heated discussion of the propriety of men appearing at their swimming pool without shirts.
Since a month ago, when the swimming pool committee announced that men and boys could swim and lounge about the pool in swimming trunks only, groups of women have taken exception. From time to time complaints were lodged with the club manager.
On the Fourth of July Leonard Ceely, Municipal Opera star, appeared at the pool in white rubber trunks—the same abbreviated outfit in which he had been accustomed to swim at Atlantic coast resorts. Several women seized upon Ceely's attire in renewing their complaints. They interested a club member, who filed written protest against shirtless bathing. This was referred to the swimming committee which yesterday voted two to one in favor of continuing shirtless attire for men and boys at Sunset.
Chairman Harry Kiener, member of the Boxing and Wrestling Commission, said he had favored the shirtless style for men since he took charge of the pool 15 years ago. Emphasizing comfort, health and freer-swimming angles of shirtless chest, he pointed out that shirtless men are recommended by the sun. "Fat men," he added, "present a sorry picture in wet, sagging shirts that accentuate obesity. Without shirts they straighten their shoulders and draw in their paunches."
Members of the club who urged the committee to stand by their new rule, argued that shirtless men were almost as fully clothed as some women and girls who wear the ultra-modern sun-tan suits.
Sunset Hill Club put the shirtless rule into effect after learning that it was the vogue at a number of other country clubs, public and private pools.
The protesting women expressed indignation when told of the adverse decision of the swimming committee. They want the board of directors to consider an appeal. Members of the board say Chairman Kiener's committee has final authority. There is talk of resignations.
TRIAL OPENS TODAY IN SLAYING OF GIRL IN PEDESTRIAN TUNNEL
Death Penalty to Be Asked for Suspect in San Fran.
By the Associated Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—Accused of the brutal park slaying of pretty Louise Jeppesen, 23 years old, of Ogden, Utah, Millard Hickman, 45-year-old marine engineer, will go to trial for murder here today. The death penalty will be asked for the tall, suave man, who has consistently protested his innocence.
Hickman was arrested May 13, a few hours after Miss Jeppesen's body was found in a pedestrian tunnel in the Golden Gate Park. She had been criminally attacked and then strangled with her own belt. Miss Jeppesen, member of a Utah banking family, had attended a gay party with Hickman the Saturday night before her death.
Hickman said that she left his apartment alone after midnight and that he did not see her again. Her body was discovered about 4 a. m. by a stableman crossing the park. The accused man, whose estranged wife and two children live in Oakland, contends two other members of the Saturday night party, Thomas Dees, head of a marine engineering firm, and Blanche McKay, attractive blonde, will support his alibi. Police charge Hickman escorted Miss Jeppesen, who had allegedly resisted his advances, from his apartment, took her to the park in his automobile and, in the hour just before dawn, attacked and killed her.

GIRL BICYCLIST, 17, KILLED WHEN SHE FALLS UNDER AUTO
Miss Marcella Hartman, 2622A Hebert, Pitches From Seat as She Turns to Get Onto Pavement.
Miss Marcella Hartman, 17 years old, 2622A Hebert street, was killed on Natural Bridge road last night when she fell off her bicycle into the path of an automobile.
The accident, at 8 o'clock, occurred a quarter of a mile east of Brown road as Miss Hartman, her sister, Olivia, 19, and two young men, Harold Finke, 2015 North Jefferson avenue, and Virgil Frillman, 2623A Natural Bridge avenue, were pedaling east on the right side of the highway.
According to the report to officers, Miss Hartman was riding on the dirt at the edge of the road, and turned sharply to get onto the concrete pavement. As the bicycle struck the slab she was pitched into the path of a westbound automobile. A wheel of the automobile passed over her head, crushing her skull.
The driver, Edgar E. Harrelson, an insurance collector of Perry, Mo., took the girl to De Paul Hospital, where she was pronounced dead. Harrelson, who was accompanied by his wife and daughter, furnished bond pending an inquest tomorrow.
Miss Olivia Hartman, riding some distance behind her sister at the time of the accident, told a Post-Dispatch reporter that Harrelson's machine swerved around another at the moment Marcella was struck.
The Hartman sisters, riding their own bicycles, had started for the Municipal Airport with their escorts, but turned back before reaching the field. Their father, Joseph Hartman, is unemployed.
Granite City Woman Injured When Struck by Auto.
Mrs. Sarah Zoller, 75 years old, suffered a fractured right arm and leg and a skull injury when struck by an automobile last night in front of her home, 2734 Madison avenue, Granite City.
The automobile was driven by Miss Mary Sanders, 19-year-old daughter of the Rev. John Henry Sanders, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Granite City. She is a student at McKendree College. She told police Mrs. Zoller walked into the path of her car. Mrs. Zoller is in St. Elizabeth's Hospital.
DEFENSE PLEADS FOR CONTINUANCE OF KELLEY TRIAL
affidavit says, is such that the work of defending his clients at this time would "impair his health and probably his life."
One of the State witnesses mentioned, whose deposition the defense desires but has not been able to take, is Edna Booker, Negro, daughter of John C. Johnson, the farmer at whose St. Charles County cabin Dr. Kelley was held prisoner. Johnson was murdered by a machine-gunner May 12, after having turned State's witness and having been released on bond. His affidavit, which cannot be used as evidence, named Rosegrant, David and McDonald as among the captors of Dr. Kelley. Mrs. Booker is a prisoner in the penitentiary.
Prosecutor Prepares Reply.
Preparation of the defense affidavit having taken one hour, further time was granted for preparation of a reply by Prosecuting Attorney Anderson, and for lunch, the Court ordering a recess until 1 p. m.
The State is resisting and continuance plea on the ground that its witness, Johnson, was murdered; another witness, Fiedler, is in hiding for protection, and the chief witness, Dr. Kelley, is under constant police guard.
Lacy presented the continuance plea on his arrival in the courtroom at 9:42 a. m., 12 minutes after court had convened. He stood talking to Howard Sidener, another defense lawyer, when Judge Nolte addressed him.
"Mr. Lacy," the Judge asked, "have you anything to say to the Court?" "We have been waiting 10 minutes."
"I wish to apologize," Lacy said. "I mistook the time."
State Announces Ready.
Previously, Judge Nolte had spoken sharply to Mrs. Muench, the only one of the defendants who was in the courtroom when court convened. She had not risen when all others present, including the Judge, stood during the bailiff's announcement of the opening of court, and the Judge ordered her to rise. She was seated near her husband, Dr. Ludwig O. Muench, and Robert M. Zeppenfeld, one of her lawyers.
The case, styled that of "State of Missouri vs. Bart David et al."

was the first one called, and Prosecuting Attorney C. Arthur Anderson responded, "The State is ready for trial as to all the defendants."
The 60 seats for spectators were filled and little standing room was available.
The three main defendants, who are prisoners, McDonald being a penitentiary convict in another attempted kidnapping case, were brought from the jail into the courtroom at 10:50 a. m.
Mrs. Muench was wearing a white silk suit, with light green silk scarf, broad-brimmed Panama hat, white sandals and tan hose.
Rosegrant wore a tan suit of silk material. He and David, who was in a heavy brown suit, showed pallor from their confinement in jail. McDonald, who got some outdoor exercise while in the penitentiary, had a less prisoner-like appearance. He wore a gray suit.
Ready to Try Rosegrant.
If a continuance is not granted, the next expected move is a severance of the cases of the four defendants. The case, under the shirtless style for men since he took charge of the pool 15 years ago. Emphasizing comfort, health and freer-swimming angles of shirtless chest, he pointed out that shirtless men are recommended by the sun. Bessie, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Cremeens, 4214A North Broadway, was drowned in the Mississippi River yesterday at Portage des Sioux, about 14 miles northeast of St. Charles.
Wading off a sandbar, she stepped beyond her depth and was carried away by the current. The body has not been recovered.

Her companions were Ray Stringer, 7, son of Joe Stringer, 2810 North Eleventh street, and Morris Leach, 8, and his sister, Wilma, 11, children of Cashier Leach, 830 North Sarah street. They shouted for help, but the only persons nearby were two women who were unable to give any assistance.
Bessie was a fifth grade pupil at the Clay School. Besides her parents, six sisters and three brothers survive. Her father is a night watchman.
MENDEL BEILISS, "MARTYR" OF RUSSIAN JEWRY, DIES
Succumbs to Heart Attack at Saratoga Springs; Was Falsely Accused of Killing Boy.
By the Associated Press.
SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., July 9.—Mendel Beiliss, 63 years old, known as a martyr of Russian Jewry, died Saturday. He was stricken with a heart attack in a hotel, where he had come to take mineral baths, and succumbed en route to a hospital.
In 1913, during a movement for Parliamentary government in Russia, he was charged with the murder of a Christian boy. After investigation, however, the police chief in Kiev decided the boy had been killed by a criminal gang.
The Russian Government, following an anti-Semitic policy, was eager to pin the crime on a Jew as a ritual murder, it was said. Beiliss was arrested. The police chief resigned, declaring he had found no evidence against the man. After months in jail, he was acquitted by a jury. Members of his race sent him to a farm in Palestine, which he left in 1918 to come to the United States.

DOCTORS INVITE 3573 BABIES TO THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING Woman Physician Has Assisted That Number Into World; She and Husband Studied Together.
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, July 9.—Dr. Lauretta E. Kress and Dr. Daniel H. Kress celebrated their golden wedding anniversary today by inviting "their 3573 babies" to a reception.
Dr. Daniel has specialized in digestive diseases, his 71-year-old wife in babies. From Washington to New Zealand she has assisted them into the world during a 40-year career as an obstetrician. The oldest of the 3573 persons she likes to call her children is 40. The youngest was born yesterday.
Medical science, she says, has improved conditions attending childbirth but "expectant mothers who refuse to give up smoking, drinking, strenuous sports and freak diets cannot hope to have healthy babies."
"A great many expectant mothers," she said, "are geared to the speed and action of present day living and don't realize they should slow down."
It was after Dr. Kress and her husband had two children of their own that they took up the study of medicine in the University of Michigan. They completed their courses 40 years ago.

SCHOOL PRINCIPAL AND TEACHER WED
William H. Schlueter, Head of Oak Hill, Marries Ellen Williams Hansen in Chicago.
William H. Schlueter, principal of Oak Hill School, and Mrs. Ellen Williams Hansen, a teacher at the school for the last four years, were married Friday in the chapel of the Chicago Theological Seminary.
Both have been attending summer sessions at the University of Chicago and went there shortly after the close of school here. Two of Mr. Schlueter's daughters and the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert H. Williams, 5300 Murdoch avenue, were there for the ceremony.
Schlueter's first wife, Mrs. Anna Schlueter, 45 years old, was shot to death in her home, 3228 Scanlan avenue, March 30, 1933, while she slept in bed beside her husband. Schlueter told the police that she was killed by a man, presumably a prowler, who fired two shots and then jumped out of the bedroom window.
Schlueter, 48 years old, has been principal of Oak Hill School since 1929. He entered the St. Louis school system in 1918. His wife, who is 36, has been a widow seven years. She has been residing with her parents.
At the Schlueter home today a daughter said she knew nothing of her father's plans or whether he would take a wedding trip with his bride. She said she did not know when they would return here. Schlueter has four daughters.
The first Mrs. Schlueter was shot to death at 2:15 o'clock in the morning. Schlueter told the police that he was awakened by a shot. Then he saw a light, presumably from a flashlight. The prowler fired another shot and fled through the window.
A warrant charging robbery while armed was issued by the Circuit Attorney today against Berryhill. Penalty for the crime ranges from 10 years in prison to death.
Heat Record in England.
LONDON, July 9.—The United Kingdom is experiencing the hottest July in 41 years. The temperature was 83 in London today. Workers on the estate of the Earl of Malmesbury at Christ Church, near Bournemouth, were joined by men from the Royal Artillery as fires swept a famous forest on the estate. Cottages were destroyed. Yesterday the congregation and rector of Fibrighst, Surrey Church, left their service to help soldiers fight a fire sweeping a five-mile-square area.
Short Steel Work Week.
EAST CHICAGO, Ind., July 9.—Forty thousand men returned to work in the East Chicago and Gary Steel Mills today on short week schedule. Instead of working the full steel code week, they will be given three or four days' employment a week until production expands, thus aiding in spreading the work. Production in the East Chicago Mills is at 42 per cent of capacity.

HITLER'S COURSE BLOW TO MOSLEY'S BRITISH FASCISTS

"No Dictator Here," Says London Daily Mail; Terroristic Methods Dissipate Sympathy.

BRITAIN AND FRANCE DRIVEN TOGETHER

People of England Look With Less Suspicion on Closer Relations Between Two Countries.

(Copyright, 1934.)
LONDON, July 7. — The "executions" indulged in by Chancellor Adolf Hitler's firing squads during the past few days have done a good deal more than simply wipe out a few scores or hundreds of persons whose continued existence had become inconvenient to the German dictator. Among other things they have practically killed whatever lingering chance British Fascism may have had of becoming a real force here. Far more important than this, however, they will probably have the effect of forcing France and England more closely together diplomatically, economically and militarily.

If on Sunday and Monday after the executions any sections of the British press hesitated in applying outspoken condemnation to Nazi methods, enlightenment was not long in coming. By Tuesday not a single important British newspaper had failed to express its horror and detestation of Hitler's procedure.
Even the "Daily Mail," hitherto a warm supporter of Sir Oswald Mosley and the British Fascists, although refraining from direct criticism of the Nazis, took occasion in a review of a current production at Albert Hall here of "A Pageant of Parliament" to declare:

"The moral of it all is that British needs and will have no dictator."
At the other end of the scale, the "London Times," usually restrained in all its editorial opinions, commented: "Germany for the time being has ceased to be a modern European country and has reverted to medieval conditions."

Loss of Sympathy.
Nor were these comments in any way unrepresentative. During the 1920s the average man in the street here had a good deal of sympathy for Germany, which he believed had been given a raw deal by the former Allies. The last vestiges of that sympathy have now been dissipated and popular feeling now seems to be as anti-German as it was 20 years ago. That this present intolerance of all things Fascist also will extend to the British varieties thereof does not seem open to reasonable doubt.

It is equally certain that conditions in Germany have had the British people to look with less suspicion upon the new Franco-British entente which is almost daily being cemented; although it is not yet apparent that public opinion is willing to go so far as the national government would like in this direction.

"It is probable that for the next few years there is more reason to be afraid for Germany than afraid of Germany," wrote one commentator Friday. This seems to be a pretty general view here. Moreover, the British dislike of foreign entanglements parallels the American one. Therefore, while one can take at their face value official denials of stories which appeared

GERMANY'S NEW INDUSTRIAL RULER

MINISTER OF ECONOMICS
KURT SCHMITT has been appointed dictator of all trade and industrial activities in Germany as a result of the financial and economic crisis. Extraordinary powers granted to him extend to Oct.
1. He can promulgate any reasonable law to help trade and also has the power to impose fines against those who disobey.

on Wednesday to the effect that a formal new Anglo-French alliance is under discussion, it is not possible to disregard the fact that of the years preceding 1914 when this country was bound to France by vague and tenuous commitments which, when tested, proved quite as strong as any formal treaty.

What is Going On.
The essential moves in this game are already public property. For instance, a few days ago Gen. Paul Weyand, French Chief of Staff, came to England for a "holiday"— and what was more natural than that he should spend it in a closed conference with the British army chiefs? In return, a party of 50
British staff officers took a holiday in France—and spent it touring the World War battlefield areas, accompanied by French officers.

This week, Louis Barthou and Francis Pietri will arrive in London—just to discuss naval disarmament and "European problems as a whole."

Meanwhile, Britain is building up her air force, planning a stronger navy and perfecting a mechanized land army which would be of the highest value as a new expeditionary force on the continent.
This may not constitute an alliance—it may be all a coincidence;
but as one somewhat cynical commentator in "Whithall" remarked last week: "When one sees in the Strand a man in a blue uniform and helmet directing traffic, it is not unreasonable to assume he is a policeman." Thus, while no formal alliance will be signed and while Cabinet Ministers will be able to stand up in the House of Commons as they did 20 years ago and declare, "We have no secret commitments," it looks very much as though now as then a link is being forged in a new Anglo-French military understanding. Whatever else Hitler has failed to accomplish, he can at least claim a lion's share of the credit for this development.

TEAMSTERS AND CHAUFFERS ACCEPT WORKING AGREEMENT

Hours Are Cut, But Wages Will Not Be Changed for Year.

Union transfer teamsters and chauffeurs, members of Local 600, yesterday voted to accept a new working agreement for one year, providing for a reduction in hours with no change in wages.
Under the terms, the 1200 drivers will work eight hours a day, instead of nine and a half, at wages ranging from $25 to $36 a week.

PHYSICIAN FALLS DEAD ON OZARKS FISHING TRIP

Dr. Wilbur Smith of Springfield, Mo., Was at Lake Taneycomo for Rest.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., July 9.—
Dr. Wilbur Smith, founder of the Smith, Glynn Smith clinic here and one of the outstanding surgeons in the Missouri-Arkansas Ozarks region, fell dead while on a fishing trip at Ozark Beach on Lake
Taneycomo yesterday.

Dr. Smith, who was 62 years old, performed a major operation Saturday. He complained of feeling ill and decided to go to the lake for a rest. He arose early yesterday morning and went with his guide on a fishing expedition. Shortly after 6 o'clock he fell over in the boat. When the guide reached the resort town, Dr. Smith was dead.

Dr. Smith was a graduate of Drury College and Washington University, St. Louis. He joined Dr.
Wallis Smith in organizing the first medical clinic in the Southwest.
Dr. Smith, a member of the American College of Surgeons, was said to be one of the wealthiest men in Springfield. His widow and a daughter survive.

Papers and Newstand Burned.
Firemen called to Grand boulevard and Cottage avenue at 4 o'clock this morning found a heap of ashes smoldering on the sidewalk. Policemen were told by Isadore Heller, 3718A Maffitt avenue, that the ashes represented 1800 newspapers and a paper stand. How the blaze started was not learned, but it was thought some one dropped a match in the pile.

GOES FISHING IN FOREST PARK, THREE CHARGES CONFRONT HIM

Vulcanizer Tells Police He Did Not Know He Was Violating the Law.

Catching three catfish resulted in three entries in a police blotter yesterday against Fred Richardson, 4215W Evans avenue. He took his hooks and line to Forest Park, where he cut a tree limb for a pole and dropped his bait in the State fish hatchery pond. After he put two little fish in his creel he drew the third, a six-inch specimen, from the water. At that time two policemen drove by.

The officers arrested Richardson and found a Deputy Game Warden, who returned the fish to the water. Richardson, 24 years old, a vulcanizer, told the police he had gone to the park for purely sporting reasons and did not know it was against the law to fish there. He was booked on appearing in Police Court Thursday on a charge of fishing in a public park.

The police will seek State warrants charging fishing without a license and fishing in a State hatchery.

HOLC TO AUGMENT HOUSING PROGRAM WITH NEW LOANS

Has $300,000,000 to Add to $500,000,000 Private Funds U. S. Expects to Draw Into Renovation.

MONEY TO BE USED FOR REMODELING

PWA Reports 544,000 Persons Directly Employed — Moffett Hopes to Put 5,000,000 to Work

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The Housing Administrator, James A. Moffett, expects about $500,000,000 in private funds to flow into home renovation work before fall.

In addition, the Home Owners' Loan Corporation, despite its original intention to lend money only to home owners in financial difficulty, said it had a fund of $300,000,000 for maintaining and reconditioning homes it had financed. It reported 288,000 applications already received.

Moffett's program and the new HOLC plan thus would put to use an estimated total of $800,000,000. Moffett estimated employment would be found for 5,000,000 men through his part of the housing program, with more to be given jobs through the HOLC plan.

Secretary Ickes, the PWA Administrator, announced that 544,000 men were at work on Federal and non-Federal projects in the week ending June 23, an increase of 300,000 in this type of employment relief in the 15 weeks period since the low point for winter.

Part of Loans Guaranteed. In the plan Moffett is administering, the Government backs 20 per cent of the $500,000,000 of private capital he estimated would flow into the housing program, guaranteeing that it will pay 30 per cent of any loss an investing bank might suffer. Simplification of the program is a paramount feature of present plans.

In addition to financing repairs, the housing program also offers a chance for the home owner to refinance his mortgage.

The Home Owners' Loan Corporation, in itemizing its cash on hand, yesterday reported the 288,000 applications already received would involve an expenditure of $35,000,000. It figured the applications averaged about $200 each for reconditioning.

"Within recent weeks," its statement said, "an increasing proportion of applications for corporation reconditioning loans has called for extensive remodeling projects rather than merely the urgent repairs which are required after several years of comparative neglect of upkeep expenditures."

The corporation said that under the direction of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board an entire reconditioning organization of architects and other technical assistants had been set up by regions, states and districts.

Effect on Other Industries. Secretary Ickes said the 544,000 at work on PWA projects represented so-called "key figure" men, or those employed directly on construction sites. He estimated that for each man wielding a hammer or shovel there, two others are hired in the durable goods industries, producing, transporting or processing materials for the big dams and other projects.

The Public Works Administration foresees an inevitable decline in this class of employment during the coming winter as compared to last. It was pointed out that when the PWA program was inaugurated last year, the first big projects were started in sections where bitter weather does not freeze to paralyze all construction.

POLICE ARREST FOUR IN DRIVE TO BREAK UP CAR THEFT RING

Kansas City Officers Turn Two Suspects Over to Federal Authorities.

KANSAS CITY, Kan., July 9.—Officers seeking to break up a motor car theft ring in Missouri and Kansas today had under arrest four men.

Finis Price, 21 years old, was arrested in Lebanon, Mo., in a motor car which officers said belonged to Miss Ruth Abell, Rocky Ford, Colo., and was stolen here June 19. Price was brought here. Subsequently, police arrested three men who gave their names as William Ellsworth, 35, Ralph McWilliams, 22, and William Anderson, 22.

Ellsworth and McWilliams were turned over to Federal authorities. Police said two other men were under arrest in Temple, Tex.

LOZIER SPEAKS AT SALISBURY

Says People Are Better Off This Year Than Last.

SALISBURY, Mo., July 9.—Asserting that a majority of the people could answer "yes" to President Roosevelt's question, "Are you better off this year than last?" Ralph Lozier, of Carrollton, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congressman of the second district, spoke to an audience of 500 Charleston County people Friday night. He explained much of the legislation of the last session of Congress, particularly the Frazier-Lemke bill, which he supported, asserting that it will bring more benefits to the American farmers than all previous farm relief measures.

SHANNON MAKES PLEA FOR THE CONSTITUTION

Missouri Congressman Says Man Who Would Remove Rights Is "Arch Enemy"

By the Associated Press.

VALLEY FORGE, Pa., July 9.—An appeal for closer adherence to the Constitution was made yesterday by Congressman Joseph B. Shannon (Dem.), Missouri, in an address at the celebration of Missouri Sunday in Washington Memorial Chapel.

Exploring recent summary executions of political enemies in Germany, Shannon cited the Constitution as a safeguard for American life and liberty and said it was written to correct centuries of misgovernment in Europe.

"Constitutional government provides protection of life and property," he stated. "The arch enemy of America is the man who, acting for the people, takes away any of the constitutional rights of the people."

"The Constitution provides a way to amend its provisions. It was never intended that these should be made by mere legislative acts or by manifestos of the Chief Executive."

Discussing changing the Constitution, Shannon declared: "No one can say, with the record of the enactment and repeal of the eighteenth amendment before us, that the way provided is slow or cumbersome...."

"Those who complain that the Constitution is too rigid and inflexible can change it, if they wish, but it should be done in the way the fathers intended—by amendment, submitted to the whole electorate."

Citing the "deep set reverence for God" on the part of the leaders in the early days of the republic, Shannon said:

"I am sure that this government will never be destroyed by those who believe in God, nor by those who go to church. If it is destroyed, it will be by those who lack a proper reverence for religion."

"Those of Valley Forge... suffered that this Government should come into existence," he concluded. "The enemy from within did everything to degrade Washington, but Washington never faltered. He faced a common enemy and, likewise, he faced the Tories from within. Let us hope that way of this day, and our posterity, shall be moved, in our efforts and desire to perpetuate the republic, by the same brand of patriotism that moved our ancestors in its formation."

REALTY MAN AND DAUGHTER KILL SELVES TOGETHER

Bodies of Auto Gas Victims Found in Garage of Home at Norwalk, Conn.

NORWALK, Conn., July 9.—A suicide agreement between Robert T. Easton, 64 years old, real estate dealer of the Silvermine art colony, and his daughter, Jayne, 15, was disclosed last night after the discovery of their bodies in the gas-filled garage beneath their home here.

The verdict of the medical examiner, Dr. William H. McMahon, was double suicide. First reports that Easton, from the position of the bodies, had held his daughter as she fought against the carbon monoxide, were discounted by Dr. McMahon and the police. The two had been dead since Friday.

Detective Lieut. Martin Lengyel said that a $2000 trust fund left to the daughter when Mrs. Easton died eight years ago had dwindled to $200. Easton was the administrator of the fund.

KANSAS CITY POLICE FACE THREE MYSTERIES IN A DAY

Unexplained Killing and Two Shootings Are Reported to Officers.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 9.—Kansas City's police yesterday faced one mystery after another. Out of a building at Washington street and Southwest boulevard appeared a man who shouted: "Call an ambulance. I've been cut." He was dead when the ambulance arrived. The man, identified as Jack Howland, 34 years old, apparently had been stabbed with a butcher knife near the heart.

Harry King, 36, reported a man and woman drove up in a motor car, stopped, and one of them shot him twice. He was not seriously wounded.

Mrs. Gerald Stover, 33, notified police that while she was standing in the hallway of her apartment a stranger entered and shot her in the ankle.

ROCKEFELLER LEAVES BED FOR HIS 95TH BIRTHDAY

He Has Remained Confined Almost Constantly for Two Weeks; New York Doctor Calls.

LAKEWOOD, N. J., July 9.—John D. Rockefeller, who left his bed yesterday for a quiet observance of his ninety-fifth birthday, resumed today his calm routine of living. The townsfolk observed he broke a habit of 15 years standing, by remaining at Golf House here for his birthday instead of receiving congratulations at his Pocantico Hills estate.

Rockefeller, an authoritative source disclosed, has remained in bed almost constantly for two weeks, arising yesterday for the second appreciable period since the week-end of June 24. It was learned that last Friday a physician from New York City came by train to remain with Rockefeller for several hours.

TWO SHOT IN HOLDUP IDENTIFY MAN HELD

Jeweler and Son, Wounded Saturday, Say Negro Arrested Near Store Is Robber.

A Negro under arrest for shooting Robert P. Fritschle and his son, Milton, when they resisted a hold-up Saturday in their jewelry store at 2716 Market street, was identified yesterday by both as the man who shot them.

The identification was made at Jewish Hospital, where Milton, who is 33 years old, is in a grave condition with a bullet wound through the abdomen. He was transferred there from City Hospital a few hours after the shooting.

The elder Fritschle also was moved to Jewish Hospital. He suffered a scalp wound where a bullet grazed the top of his forehead. When taken to City Hospital, immediately after the shooting, he identified the prisoner, denouncing him for his action, and yesterday he repeated his identification in the presence of his son.

The Negro, who was arrested near the store and denies the crime, at first told police his name was Henry Mack, but yesterday, after his wife identified him at the Laclede avenue station, he admitted he was Learlize Berryhill, 31. His wife said they had been separated for 10 years.

WABASH SHOPS BEING RAZED

Records for Restoration of Land at Springfield Missing.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 9.—

Within another week the Wabash Railroad shops on Ninth street here will have been completely razed. The yards formerly employed about 1400 men. Former employees of the railroad, and others, claim that it has agreed that never should less than 212 men be employed here and that if ever the shops should cease operating on land donated for that purpose, the property should return to its original owners.

When the shop equipment was moved to Decatur some years ago, the personnel of the railroad here dropped far below the 212 agreement, and it has never returned to that level. Efforts were made at the time the equipment was taken away to force the agreement to be kept, but no record of the terms could be found.

POPE PIUS REFUSES TO TAKE A VACATION

Remains in Vatican Studying Church Problems, Except for Short Trips.

(Copyright, 1934.)

ROME, July 9.—With the holy year finished and the holy doors in the Basilicas sealed, the Vatican breathed a sigh of relief—all but Pope Pius XI, who murmured to his Maestro di Casa, Monsignor Cacciafiumana, "Would that it were beginning."

For 12 years, ever since his selection, the Pope has shown his reluctance how an elderly man can remain in perfect health without taking a vacation away from Rome. He is the only one in Vatican City so far who never has taken a regular vacation.

Prior to the Lateran Treaty, whereby he was recognized as an independent sovereign, with his own state, there was no question of getting any further away than the Vatican gardens, but now he can leave the Vatican City and wander far afield, but he refrains, as he is engrossed in the many problems of church government.

When his palace outside Rome at Castel Gandolfo, overlooking the Lake of Albano, was renovated, the gardens laid out and his apartments put in readiness, the papal entourage were sure he would take a holiday, but he limited himself to driving out in his car, inspecting the palace and the farm and then returning to Rome in the evening.

In this devotion to the surroundings of Rome, Pope Pius XI is in reality following the precedent of the Popes who went before him. From earliest times each Pope had his own special residence, which he preferred to any other.

In the eleventh century Pasquale II built a palace close to the church of the Quattro Coronati. It remained a papal palace through several centuries. When the Vatican was abandoned as a residence in the eleventh century, Pope Anastasio IV built himself a palace close to the ancient Pantheon, which had been changed into a church.

Vatican Is Rebuilt. Clement II preferred the higher parts of Rome, and after his election he lived in the palace close to Santa Maria Maggiore Church, of which he had been a canon. His successors also lived there, and one of them built a palace at the near-by Church of Santa Prassede and Santa Pudenziana. When the Vatican was rebuilt by Innocent II, in the twelfth century, it became the favorite winter residence of many of the Popes, and in time beautiful gardens were laid out.

Through the centuries the fine Palazzo San Marco, now standing and known as Palazzo Venezia, headquarters of Signor Mussolini, the Ara Coeli Palace and the Quirinal, now the Royal Palace of the Italian King, were all summer places, considered much cooler than the Vatican. Then Urban VIII built the villa at Castel Gandolfo and the Popes had a summer residence outside the Eternal City.

The chief reason the Pope delays his holiday is that many serious problems have arisen which need studying, quietly in Rome, with documents around him. These include religious complications in Germany, the trouble in China, causing the death of so many missionaries, and many other difficulties which the Pope wishes to solve in his own way.

GILDA GRAY THINKS SHE MAY BECOME A BARONESS

Former Actress Says Husband Is Heir to Half the Estate of Baron Fernando de Saa.

By the Associated Press.

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., July 9.—Gilda Gray, once famous for her shimmy, may become a baroness and share in an estate valued at a million dollars.

The former actress said her third husband, Hector Erceno de Saa, an attaché in the Venezuelan diplomatic service, has been notified that his uncle, Baron Fernando de Saa, who died recently in Casa Blanca, Morocco, has left an estate to him and his sister, Olga Erceno de Ortega. They will share it equally.

The Baron was guardian of his nephew and Miss Gray said she understood the title would be inherited by her husband. She said she had no idea of going back to the stage, and that all her time was taken up being "a diplomat's wife." The couple was married a year ago in New York. The actress, 32 years old, is eight years older than her husband.

MOLEY AT HEARING SAYS NAZI ACTIVITY IN U. S. IS MENACE

Testifies He Has Proof of Stahlhelm Groups Drilling With Swastika As Told in Magazine.

ASSAULTS ALLEGED SUBSIDY BY CONSUL

Member of 'Steel Helmets' Admits They March But Asserts Corps in U. S.
Is Independent.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, July 8.—Raymond Moley, former Assistant Secretary of State, now a magazine editor, declared today that Nazi propaganda in the United States constituted a "menace."

Moley was the first witness before a special House committee on un-American activities in a hearing that brought acknowledgment from another witness that "Stahlhelm" (steel helmet) groups drilled regularly in New York City.

The committee, under the chairmanship of Representative John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, held its first open hearing here. Other committee members present were Representatives Samuel Dickstein of New York and J. Will Taylor of Tennessee.

Moley was questioned particularly about four articles which appeared in the Magazine for July in March and April, purporting to be an expose of Nazi activities in the United States.

"The charges in the articles were understatements rather than overstatements," Moley replied to questions concerning their authenticity. "All of the documents on the basis of which these statements were made were verified and are in our possession."

Questioned About Drills.
Asked by Dickstein if groups had been drilling with the Stahlhelms and wearing swastikas, the German Nazi insignia, Moley replied: "Precisely as their pictures are published."

"That doesn't seem consistent with our form of Government," Dickstein observed.

"Whether an organic connection is proved or not proved with the German Government," Moley said, "if an organization in this country has the same ideals as that in Germany, it is a menace to this country."

Chairman McCormack said that the hearings in Washington brought out testimony that former German Consul-General Kiepe, while acting officially in New York City, had expended $4000 to finance propaganda against "Americans or people in this country, whether Americans or not, because of race."

"I think," answered Moley, "it is thoroughly improper to do any such subsidizing in the United States, and especially by anyone who is a German citizen and particularly so when he occupies an official position."

Testimony About Stahlhelm.
Acknowledgment of the existence of a Stahlhelm organization came from Walter Feige, who testified he came to the United States from Germany June 30, 1932. He spoke brokenly and much of his testimony was given through an interpreter.

Six months after his arrival as a member of the Stahlhelm, he testified, he joined the New York National Guard, Coast Artillery.

"Did you ever receive any instructions from Germany?" McCormack asked.

Feige replied the Stahlhelm in the United States and the Stahlhelm in Germany were independent of each other.

Feige also acknowledged that he was not a citizen of the United States when he joined the National Guard, having taken out only his first papers.

Under questioning designed to show that National Guard rifles were used in Stahlhelm drilling, Feige said he attended meetings of both groups but that the Stahlhelm never used guard rifles.

Feige said he joined the National Guard because he was "a good citizen and a good soldier."

MIDDLE WEST FARMERS FACE
TWO NEW THREATS TO CROPS

Corn Borer and Cut Worm Are
By-Products of Drouth, Scientists Assert.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, July 8.—Middle West farmers are facing two new crop threats, by-products of the drouth University of Chicago entomologists, studying the relationship between pests and climatic conditions, said Friday that danger of an invasion of European borers is impending.

The borer tunnels corn stalks and destroys the ears. Because of continued dry weather, the scientists said, an invasion may start soon.

TWO DROWNED IN BOAT UPSET

Three Rescued by River Steamer at Meredosia, Ill.

By the Associated Press.

Three other passengers, Clarence Phillips, James Treach and Miss Helen Lakeman, were rescued by the steamer Cape Girardeau. Mrs. Fry's body was recovered.

Highway Officials to Participate in Dedication of 22-Mile Slab on No. 25.

The official opening of the 22-mile slab of new 26-foot concrete on Highway No. 25, between Ste. Genevieve and Perryville, will take place at 6:45 p. m. today with a dedicatory program at the county line, about two miles south of the St. Marys' highway. The cost of the new strip was $480,000.

T. H. Cutler, Scott Wilson and P. H. Daniels, members of the State Highway Commission, have been invited. Daniels will deliver the principal address. County, city and Chamber of Commerce officials of Ste. Genevieve and Perryville also will participate.

Water System for Benld, Ill.

BENLD, Ill., July 8.—The City of Benld has received official notification from P. W. A. officials in Washington, of the approval of a $127,000 Government loan for construction of a water system.

The project includes the installation of a pipe line to the city of Gillespie, the source of supply, a water tower with a capacity of 150,000 gallons, and 10 miles of pipe within the city limits. Work on the improvement is expected to start in about 60 days.

You housewives know a lot about the food business.

• Can you "set an extra plate" at a smaller cost than preparing one extra meal?

• Suppose you were buying the food for 30,000 meals a day, rather than for your family alone. How much lower could you buy?

• If you could always tell exactly how much food your family would eat, so that there was never any waste, How much could you save?

Those questions illustrate the basic principles of Forum merchandising success. Then, remember too, that the difference in wholesale cost of first quality foods and ordinary grades is small in volume. Efficient operating methods easily absorb that difference. That pays for the best, at the Forum.

Yes, we can serve the best quality foods. Yes, and more generous servings. Yes, amazing low prices every day on every item. Because... proven operating methods, better equipment, tremendous buying volume and 23 years' successful experience have shown us How.

PRIMARIES TO BE CONDUCTED IN 14 STATES IN AUGUST

Those Already Held Indicate Voters Are Now More Willing to Let "Ins" Stay in Office.

MONTANA AND TEXAS VOTE THIS MONTH

With Quarter of House Membership Already Voted on, Only Seven Incumbents Have Lost.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—July, an off month for primary elections, is lending some of its heat to preparations by candidates in 14 states who are lining up votes for primaries in August.

Only two more primary contests are scheduled for this month. Next month, however, brings the biggest batch of the election year, including some of the warmest intraparty battles of 1934.

Results of primaries already held in almost a third of the states indicate the temper of the voters has changed since 1932 in at least one respect. At that time a ballot box revolt against the "ins" took an almost unprecedented toll among office holders. Now the "ins," both Democratic and Republican, have been faring very well.

Seven Congressmen Lose.
More than a fourth of the House members already have faced the voters in the primaries, with only seven casualties. Seven Senators have been renominated and none have fallen by the way.

Three more Senators face primary tests this month, two in Montana and one in Texas. In the 14 primaries next month, 10 states will select candidates for Governor, 10 candidates for the Senate, and all will choose candidates for the House.

The next primary is scheduled for July 17, in Montana. It will find both that State's Democratic senatorial incumbents, Wheeler and Erickson, seeking renomination. Wheeler is opposed by Burt Reple, Lawiston attorney, while five candidates are after his colleague's nomination.

One of the warmest contests of the year will culminate with the Texas primary July 23, when Senator Connally, the Democratic incumbent, will tangle at the polls with Representative Joseph W. Bailey Jr., son of the former Senator.

August Primaries.
August will bring primaries in Tennessee, Kentucky, Kansas, Missouri, Virginia, West Virginia, Arkansas, Idaho, Nebraska, Ohio, Wyoming, Mississippi, California and South Carolina.

The first of these, Aug. 2, in Tennessee, will find both Democratic Senators, McKellar and Bachman, up for renomination. John R. Neal, Knoxville lawyer and educator, has filed against McKellar for the long term, while Representative Borden Browning is running against Bachman.

Thirty-five Senate seats will be filled in this year's balloting. The only incumbent who has announced he will not seek re-election is Senator Thompson (Dem.), Neb. Gov. Charles Bryan is running for his seat.

Senators Already Chosen.
Senator who already have been renominated are: Reed, Pennsylvania; Robinson, Indiana; Hale, Maine; Republican; Kean, New Jersey; Republican; Shipstead, Minnesota; Farmer-Laborite; Trammell, Florida, Democrat; and Frazier, North Dakota, Republican.

Though there have been few upsets in the selections so far, party leaders predict they will come thick and fast in the November general election, when the Democrats face the Republicans.

Republican leaders are claiming they will pick up several seats in the House and hold their own in the Senate contests. Democratic leaders predict few losses in the House, and gains up to six or eight seats in the Senate.

Appeal Filed in Will Case.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 9.—An appeal was filed with the State Supreme Court Saturday in the will case of Sara P. Livingston, wealthy Peorian, who died in 1923 in Los Angeles, Cal. Her will bequeathed one-half of her Illinois real estate to the American Baptist Missionary Union and $200,000 to the University of Southern California. The university filed a claim for that amount against the estate and the State Supreme Court of California upheld the claim, of which $125,000 has been paid. An Important Letter

WALTER P. CHRYSLER
CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD

CHRYSLER CORPORATION
Detroit, Michigan

June 26, 1934

WALTER P. CHRYSLER

makes public a letter to one of his friends, because it answers a number of questions of interest to everyone

Dear Mr. Pritchard:

You asked a straightforward question and I'll give you a straightforward answer.

The De Soto and Chrysler Airflow cars will be a permanent part of the Chrysler Motors line.

Five years ago, we started work on a new type of car for our higher priced lines. We felt that cars in this class should provide more comfort, greater spaciousness and a better ride than had ever been possible before. Airflow is the result.

Before we built a single car we invested a great deal of time and money in machinery, tools and rearranging our factories. In less than six months we have built over 20,000 of these cars.

At first people were startled by the Airflow's unusual appearance, but today as more and more of them are on the road, people are realizing that here is a safer and better way to travel. The Airflow car looks different because it is different.

I wish that I could get every person who is interested in cars to study and drive an Airflow. Neither talking, advertising nor pictures can bring out the real features of this new kind of car. You have to drive an Airflow to appreciate the improvement we have accomplished.

Each day finds the Airflow car becoming more popular.

So, Mr. Pritchard, go buy your Airflow. You'll be a lot happier because you bought a car that will stay modern a long time.

Very truly yours,

W. P. Chrysler
Chairman of the Board

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH CHARGES OF MISSOURI POLITICAL MONOPOLY

Milligan Answers Cochran by Attacking St. Louis Democratic Leaders.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
MOBERLY, Mo., July 9.—Representative Jacob L. Milligan, in an interview here Saturday, denied charges made Friday night by his opponents, Harry S. Truman and John J. Cochran, that he and his supporters were attempting to obtain political control of Missouri or that he "journeyed to Kansas City two years ago and asked for support of the Pendergast organization in his race for Congress."
Milligan, however, made no reference to these charges in an address here in which he reiterated his support of the Roosevelt administration.

During his interview, Milligan stated: "I could not tell from Mr. Cochran's remarks to whom he was referring when he stated there was a desire of some to gain control of the State and set up a political dictatorship." (Cochran made these charges in a speech Friday night).
"The people of Missouri," continued Milligan, "of course know that it is the desire of Bill Igoe, Charley Hay and Mayor Barney Dickmann to gain control of the State in order to elect Dickmann Governor of Missouri. I wonder if Mr. Cochran was referring to this?"
Regarding Truman's charges of ingratitude, Milligan said: "Mr. Truman, in his opening speech at Columbia last night, stated it will be remembered that both Mr. Milligan and Mr. Cochran journeyed to Kansas City two years ago and sought and received the endorsement of the Kansas City Democratic organization for Congressmen-at-large."
"Because of the close relationship between Mr. Pendergast and Mr. Truman, he (Truman) knows this is not true," asserted Milligan. "I did not journey to Kansas City two years ago when I was a candidate for Congressman-at-large or at any other time, to solicit Mr. Pendergast's support. I never talked with Mr. Pendergast but once in my life. This was at the national Democratic convention at Houston, Tex., in 1928, when I was a member of the Missouri delegation."

WABASH LOWEST IN YEARS
Robinson, Ill., Ferryman Sees "Low Tide" Nali Driven In 1897.
ROBINSON, Ill., July 9.—Thirty-seven years ago D. L. Taylor, veteran ferryman, drove a nail in the Cofferdam at Riverport at the lowest level the residents had ever seen the Wabash River.
During many dry seasons, Taylor has compared the river level with that of 1897, but the best he has ever been able to do was feel the nail under water. Friday he went to the dam and saw the nail for the first time. He said the water will have to drop only three-quarters of an inch to reach the 1897 level.

STABS RADIO CROONER AT BROADCAST STATION

Baltimore Man Angry, He Says, Because Name Was Used in Funny Song.
By the Associated Press.
JERSEY CITY, N. J., July 9.—Angry because a radio crooner, so he said, had used his name in a funny song, Angelo Febbraro, 30 years old, of Baltimore, invaded Radio Station WAAT yesterday and stabbed Harold McNamara, the speaker, in the right hand. The crooner was not hurt much. Police grabbed Febbraro.
A checkup on recent programs disclosed nothing even sounding like "Angelo Febbraro."
Febbraro appeared at the station in the Universal Building at Journal Square at 3 p. m. and approached Walter Kelly, program manager. "Who mentioned my name?" he cried. Before Kelly could answer Febbraro ran to a microphone and Joseph Cassidy was finishing a song.
"What are you doing there?" he shouted to Cassidy and also into the microphone.
Attendants rushed Febbraro toward an elevator just as McNamara stepped out. Febbraro opened a penknife and stabbed McNamara in the right hand. Febbraro struggled with the elevator operator, William Morris, and Morris sprained both thumbs on the man. Police grabbed Febbraro. McNamara was treated at the Medical Center.

13 CONCILIATORS ARE NAMED UNDER NEW BANKRUPTCY ACT

Federal Appointees to Handle Farm Mortgage Problems in Illinois Counties.
By the Associated Press.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 9.—Thirteen Conciliation Commissioners to serve under the new Bankruptcy Act were appointed by Federal Judge Charles G. Briggie and J. Earl Major.
The recent amendment to the National Bankruptcy Act allows persons with mortgaged farms additional time to straighten out their affairs before a conciliator, instead of appearing before a referee in bankruptcy.
Appointments announced Friday were: Fred B. Pollard, Rock Island, for Rock Island County; L. C. Combs, Greenville, Bond County; Edward F. Rile, Minonk, Woodford County; John J. Krutzer, Mokena, Warren County; Norbert L. Hutchens, Winchester, Scott County; C. E. Fort Jr., Stronghurst, Henderson County; and Clement L. Smith, Carrollton, Greene County.
Later, six more conciliators were named as follows: Ralph Adams, Christian County; W. M. Cox, Calhoun County; Charles Barker, Sangamon County; Fred A. Dubodway, Jersey County; E. S. Stickney, Knox County; and M. D. Powell, Madison County.
Leon Lamel of Warsaw was named conciliator for Hancock County several weeks ago. The appointments were made on recommendation of the Farm Debt Adjustment Committees in the various counties. Others were expected this week.

NO NEW FINANCIAL LEGISLATION NEEDED, SAYS SENATE GROUP

Committee Soon to Submit Pecora's Report on Two Years of Investigation.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, July 9.—The Senate Banking and Currency Committee, after two years' investigation of banks and security exchanges, will file a report to Congress within a few days, saying that no further legislation affecting the nation's financial interests is necessary now.
The document of some 7000 words has been prepared by Ferdinand Pecora, committee counsel and now member of the Stock Exchange Regulation Commission. It will be sent to the Secretary of the Senate as soon as Chairman Fisher of the committee has given final approval.
The report will say that the Truth in Securities Act of 1933, plus the 1934 amendments, the various banking acts as amended and the Stock Exchange Control law provided adequate Federal supervision of the nation's finances so far as can be judged now. The committee, however, still is empowered to investigate.

ENDS LIFE BY POISON AFTER BEING SAVED TWO YEARS AGO

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—Cuthbert Rieveley drained a cup of poison two years ago, seeking death because of a girl. Science, through the then new methylene blue poison treatment, saved him from suicide.
Rieveley drank half a cup of poison again Friday night—and locked the door. He was found dead 24 hours later—beyond all scientific aid. Police said today he had made certain that no one would discover his act until the poison had completed its work.
He was a former University of California medical student.
Cochran Meeting Tonight.
Twenty-second Ward Democratic headquarters in the campaign of Congressman Cochran for the nomination for United States Senator will be opened at 4421 Natural Bridge avenue tonight by Mrs. Lucille McQuade, Democratic committeewoman. J. Wesley McAfee will speak for Cochran. Mrs. McQuade said some of the organization of Michael Whelan, ward committeeman, which in the past has not co-operated with Mrs. McQuade's group, would join in conduct of the headquarters.

NEW LIGHTING SYSTEM FOR ILLINOIS STATE HOUSE GROUNDS

Officials Hope to Make Capitol Show Place Both Night and Day.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 9.—Before another week the State House grounds will be veiled in light by which officials hope they will become a show place in the darkness as well as in the sun.

Installation of a new ornamental lighting system has just been completed under supervision of Charles F. Malloy of Sorento, Superintendent of Buildings. Concrete posts, with wiring on the outside, have been replaced with 15-foot poles surmounted by single 300 to 500 watt lamps along driveways and walks and near statues. Six lights surround the Lincoln statue.

State employees and a few Springfield laborers have done all the work, Malloy said, at a cost much below estimates made by the supervising architect's office. The original estimate was $10,000. Under the Emerson administration $8000 was appropriated. This was extended under Gov. Horner.

Pastor Declines Moberly Post. Special to the Post-Dispatch.

MOBERLY, Mo., July 9.—The Rev. E. D. Owen, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Cape Girardeau, who recently was called to the pastorate of the same church here, Friday declined to make the change. He stated the Cape Girardeau church was heavily in debt and he wished to remain there until the debts are paid.

MANY EMERGENCY ACTS ARE UPHeld BY HIGHER COURTS

Validity of Numerous State Emergency Laws Tested—Minnesota Sustained at Washington.

KANSAS APPROVES PWA ROAD LOANS

Measure Holding County Treasurers Liable for Public Funds in Closed Banks Stands in Illinois.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 9.—Into the controversy over the constitutionality of emergency relief legislation, some of the enactments associated with the "New Deal," supreme courts of the states have poured a number of decisions.

Most numerous among the measures acted upon by the commonwealth tribunals, a survey today showed, were mortgage acts, with the Minnesota moratorium law, upheld first by its State Supreme Court and later by the Supreme Court of the United States, receiving widest notice.

Sustained in Wisconsin.

Wisconsin's Supreme Court also has sustained legislation allowing State courts to delay foreclosures at their discretion, but it held invalid an act which prohibited holders of real estate bonds, secured by a trust deed, from bringing recovery action on their bonds until the property in question had gone through foreclosure. The Iowa Supreme Court also upheld a farm mortgage moratorium law. The Oklahoma Supreme Court, however, ruled against Gov. William Murray's effort to aid tax delinquents who would lose their property by pardoning them for nonpayment of tax penalties.

Almost recipient of as much notice as the moratorium laws has been the "gold clause" legislation permitting abrogation of requirements in instruments for payment in gold or its equivalent. A widely quoted decision of the New York State Court of Appeals recently upheld the constitutionality of a congressional resolution on this subject.

An act permitting the State Highway Department to borrow and accept from the Federal Government a loan and grant up to $23,000,000 for a construction relief program recently was upheld by the Kansas Supreme Court after the Attorney-General had contended the measure violated a provision of the Constitution prohibiting public debt in excess of $1,000,000 without a direct vote of the people. Minnesota Relief Upheld.

Besides the mortgage moratorium law, the Minnesota Supreme Court has upheld a $5,000,000 emergency relief fund, and a lowered basis for homestead valuation for taxation purposes.

Opinions approving the validity of bond issues at Butte, Missoula, Bozeman and Billings for the security of PWA loans for public buildings were recently issued by the Montana Supreme Court.

In Wyoming the highest court recently gave a favorable decision in a friendly suit brought to determine the right of the University of Wyoming to pledge its regular land income fund as security for a $300,000 PWA loan and grant for a new liberal arts building.

The Illinois Supreme Court upheld the constitutionality of a 1932 special session law regarding the liability of local treasurers for money lost in closed banks, and an opinion by Chief Justice Norman L. Jones inferred that other emergency legislation would be upheld.

South Dakota passed an act slicing 15 per cent off salaries of county treasurers, auditors, clerks of courts, registers of deeds and superintendents of schools as a means of depression retrenchment, but the Supreme Court there held the act unconstitutional.

PART OF MINE PAY IN COAL

Benton, Ill., Workers' Claims Are Adjusted by Company.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

BENTON, Ill., July 9.—The mine of the Franklin County Coal Co. here has resumed operation following a few days' idleness when 160 of the 300 men employed refused to work, claiming that they were receiving only 60 per cent of the wages due them. An agreement was reported reached whereby the men are to receive 70 per cent of their wages in cash and the balance in coal, which they are privileged to sell to anyone they may choose.

Directors Must Restore $48,000.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 9.—Seven former directors of the Chicago Real Estate Taxpayers' Association were ordered Saturday to restore $48,000 of its funds which Superior Judge William J. Lindsay declared they have removed in contempt of his orders. The Judge indicated he would fine them all later. Two injunctions had tied up the association's money after a squabble among the managers.

Drouth Turtling Missouri Corn. POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., July 8.—The Southeast Missouri corn crop has suffered seriously during the past two weeks, according to F. H. Darnall, county farm agent. Lack of rain is costing the farmers heavily, Darnall said. The situation became serious during the past two or three days. One farmer reported his crop has been reduced 50 per cent by the drouth.

ADDITIONAL $500,000 FOR DROUTH VICTIMS

Horner Indicates Illinois Farmers Will Get Another Half Million for Relief.

By the Associated Press. SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 9.—Gov. Henry Horner Saturday indicated that another $500,000 would be available for drouth relief for Illinois farmers.

The Governor gave the hint that additional funds would be forthcoming as Drouth Relief Administrator J. H. Lloyd announced that $336,889.63 had been spent to furnish handicapped farmers with seed for emergency crops and livestock feed. Lloyd said loan applications were being cared for 24 hours after they were received. Applications totaling $89,595.49 have been received from 1010 farmers in 29 counties, he added.

Since inauguration of the program, cash loans to 968 farmers in 31 counties in the drouth area have been approved. Freight reduction rates on shipments of specified livestock and livestock feeds in the stricken areas were extended to Aug. 4 by the United States Department of Agriculture.

Drouth Relief Benefits Made Available to 89 More Counties.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, July 9.—The Farm Administration Saturday added 89 counties in the Western drouth belt to the list of those eligible for relief benefits, and at the same time added 35 others from secondary to the emergency classification list.

Meanwhile, the administration announced cattle bought in drouth areas with the dual purpose of aiding hard-pressed farmers and furnishing beef to the indigent, had totaled 764,791 head, obtained from 64,938 farms in Arizona, Minnesota, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Texas, Wisconsin and Wyoming. Counties added to the emergency list were in California, Kansas, Nebraska and Texas.

LONG MISSING SISTER
VISITS NORMA MILLENConvicted Wife of Condemned Slayer Weeps at Reunion in Jail Cell.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

DEDHAM, Mass., July 9.—Thelma Brighton, long missing sister of Norma Brighton Millen, appeared at Dedham jail yesterday for a dramatic reunion with the girl who awaits sentence as an accessory in the Needham bank murder, for which Norma's husband was condemned to death.

The two girls, both tall and slender, both blue-eyed, Thelma a striking blonde, Norma darker, rushed into each other's arms in the rounds of the jail, their tearful greetings smothered in embraces and kisses.

Guards left them alone for fully an hour and a quarter while the girl who went away told the story of her wanderings and comforted the girl who stayed at home and landed in a jail cell.

Thelma told her sister she has been in St. Louis ever since she left her father's home nearly six years ago. Despite the efforts of her father, the Rev. Norman Brighton, to find her, despite appeals in the press and the efforts of private detectives, the first news of her home folks that came here, Thelma said, was a story of Norma's predicament she read in a Chicago newspaper three weeks ago.

She declared she was married four and a half years ago to Chester Martin, proprietor of a St. Louis shoe store, and with the exception of one trip to California in 1930, has made her home permanently in St. Louis. Martin came East with her, and was in the jail yard with the Rev. Mr. Brighton during the reunion of the sisters.

Norma was allowed to come to the window to greet Martin. She called out:

"Hi, there, Chester," and waved gaily.

Thelma told reporters:

"After I left father's home six years ago, I went directly to St. Louis, where I worked as a typist. I lived with a girl friend and her father, on the west side of St. Louis. I met Mr. Martin when I went to his store to buy shoes. We fell in love and were married almost five years ago.

"We shall be out here to see Norma as often as we can. I'm coming with my dad when he makes his regular visit Monday and I hope they'll let me in, too."

Thelma and Martin arrived in Boston Saturday afternoon, after driving from St. Louis in Martin's car.

Chester Martin, husband of Mrs. Thelma Martin, was employed as a salesman in the shoe store of Arman Kalyan, 4347 Olive street, until two months ago when he left, presumably to go to Chicago.

PITTSBURGH, July 9.—Lois Marshall, a parachute jumper, was killed last night in a 1500-foot plunge after her parachute failed to open when she leaped from an airplane. Her body landed near the Churchill Country Club at suburban Wilkinsburg.

Miss Marshall was making her fourth leap at an air show. In a previous jump, she did not open her parachute until after falling about 700 feet.

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich., July 9.—George B. Thompson, 24 years old, of Detroit, fell 2500 feet to his death at Motor City Airport here yesterday when he attempted a delayed parachute descent.

Two thousand persons witnessed the fall. Thompson, witnesses said, apparently failed to judge correctly the speed of his drop. The parachute did not open until he was 75 feet from the ground.

ATTEMPT TO SHAKE FRAUD IDENTIFICATIONDefense Cross Examines Alleged Victim of Gang of Swindlers.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 9.—A rapid fire of cross-examination questions was employed by an attorney today in an effort to wipe out identification of James C. McKay in connection with an alleged international swindling ring.

McKay, a gambler of Reno, Nev., is on trial in Federal Court, along with William J. Graham, also of Reno, and John Eggleston of Worcester, Mass. They are charged with misuse of the mails in a scheme to defraud.

Allister Forbes of Victoria, B. C., one of 42 victims of the alleged ring, identified McKay Friday as a man whom he knew as "the manager" of the Riverside Bank of Reno in September, 1929. He said the Riverside Bank arranged for transfer of $80,000 from Victoria, he was introduced as the manager.

the money being subsequently lost on a racetrack gag.

"Definitely Recognized Him."

John Taft, San Francisco attorney, attacked the testimony with a vigor that kept the attention of the jurors on him. He made Forbes tell just when he recognized McKay, and whether he discussed the recognition with George Pfann, Assistant District Attorney. The witness said he recognized McKay on Thursday, "but not definitely" and that he told Pfann merely that he had seen a man who was familiar.

"When I took the stand here Friday I saw him full face for the first time and then I definitely recognized him," he said.

Taft handed him a picture of Ray J. Frisch, missing cashier of the Riverside Bank, and asked him, "Isn't that the man you saw?" Forbes squinted at it.

"I don't recall the face," he said.

Picture Placed in Evidence.

The picture was accepted in evidence and passed to the jury.

The concern of the defense over Forbes' identification of McKay is based on the character of his indictment, which charges only that McKay and Graham introduced victim into the bank and guaranteed their accounts. Forbes said McKay sat at a desk in the bank and that he was introduced as the manager.

Taft asked the witness why he didn't describe McKay when he first made complaint to the Chief of Police in Victoria.

"Because I couldn't conceive of a bank being mixed up in an affair like this," he testified.

A Friendly Interest
THAT DOESN'T STOP AT THE GAS PUMP!

This "Seven-Step Check-up" of your car's running needs is a regular part of the service you will always find at all Mobilgas Stations EVER WONDER what a serviceman thinks about while he's servicing your car? If he's a Lubrite serviceman, he thinks about several things — all concerned with your car — in an orderly, planned-in-advance sequence.

As he fills the tank, he thinks to clean your rear window. When he removes the hose, he remembers to tighten the gas tank cap.

Next—without any word from you—he checks your oil. And while the hood is up, he makes a quick survey of the condition of the spark plugs, the fan belt, the wiring.

Then—automatically—up to the front to fill your radiator. While there he looks at your tires—sees whether they need air.

Next stop is the passenger's side of the car, where he carefully cleans and polishes the windshield. Then back to the driver's side to wipe that clean—and report anything that seems to need immediate attention.

All this is automatic—part of his training. A "seven-step" survey of your car that shows whether everything is as it should be. But even with that, his interest doesn't stop.

THE REASON is that Lubrite men are in the business of caring for your car's running needs—not merely selling gasoline and oil. Every car owner who comes in is more than a customer—he's a friend who may need some little thing he doesn't know about.

Mobilgas gives you finer car performance; Mobiloil is a better oil for modern motors. But in addition to these plus-values, you get the friendly help of a man who knows cars, every time you stop at the pump with the Mobilgas shield. Look for this sign when you travel.

WHILE HE FILLS the radiator, the Lubrite serviceman carefully checks your tires and headlights.

NOT ONLY MAPS, but the latest information about roads and road conditions is yours for the asking.

A DIRTY REAR WINDOW is dangerous, so Lubrite men carefully wipe it clean when they fill your tank.

MOBILUBRICATION means car lubrication by methods officially approved by the makers of your car.

DER DREWES WINS HIS 11TH STRAIGHT MUNICIPAL TENNIS TITLE

DEFEATS NORTON IN THREE SETS; ONLY SIX GAMES TAKEN BY LOSER

By Davison Obeart.

Theodore Raymond Drewes of the O'Fallon Park Tennis Club won the twenty-first annual St. Louis Municipal men's singles tennis championship by defeating Robert Norton, also representing O'Fallon Park, in the final round on the Jefferson Memorial courts in Forest Park yesterday afternoon, 6-3, 6-0, 6-3.

The doubles title went to Norton and Ted Heurmann, who paired to defeat Wayne Smith and Ward Parker, in a match which required four sets, 6-1, 6-8, 7-5, 6-3.

In winning from Norton, Drewes gained his eleventh consecutive title and his fourteenth since 1914. Drewes gained his first singles victory in 1916 and won again in 1918 and 1921. He did not compete the next two years, but resumed play in 1924, and has held the title ever since.

Owens Four U. S. Titles.
The record made by Drewes is probably unequalled by any public parks player in the United States. Drewes has also figured in many doubles victories. Last year he paired with Elmer Dorfmont to win the local doubles title and the team reached the final round in the National public parks championship in New York.

Drewes has won the National Public Parks singles honors four times and has never finished lower than the quarter-finals in the U. S. competition. With the exception of the third set, Drewes held the advantage over Norton throughout. Norton led 3 to 1 in the third set, but Drewes' consistent play enabled him to overcome this lead and ultimately win the set and match.

The point score of the match follows:
FIRST SET.
Drewes 4 1 2 3 4 5 6
Norton 2 0 1 1 1 2 3
SECOND SET.
Drewes 4 4 4 5 4
Norton 2 1 2 2 1 1 2 3
THIRD SET.
Drewes 1 1 2 0 4 5 5 4
Norton 4 1 2 3 3 2 0 4

Recapitulation: Drewes—sets, 3; games, 18; points, 82; Norton—sets, none; games, 6; points, 53. Time of match—55 minutes.

Norton and Heurmann started with a rush in the opening set of the doubles against Smith and Parker. They won four straight games, lost the next and then took two for the set, 6-4. Smith or Parker lacked control.

Smith and Parker Rally.
Play in the second set was somewhat different. Smith and Parker became steadier and aided by some excellent net play led 4 to 1. Norton and Heurmann, however, won the next four games to lead 5 to 4. They led again at 6 to 5 but Smith and Parker took the set, 8-6.

Smith and Parker won 2-4 in games, after which Norton and Heurmann took two to win the set, 7-5. In the fourth and final set, Smith and Heurmann proved steady and they won it, 6-3.

The paid attendance at the semi-finals and finals was 400, which netted $100 toward the expenses of sending the winners to the National Public Parks championship at Minneapolis next month.

BILL BRITT GAINS ON LEADER IN CLASS B BIKE COMPETITION
In the second set of a series of races yesterday morning in Forest Park under the auspices of the Century Road Club of America, Missouri Division, Bill Britt Jr., Class B rider, forged toward the front when he captured the one-half mile and two mile races, accumulating 15 points, thereby pulling up within two points of Al Talghader Jr., who finished second in the Class B division and who leads Class B by two points.

Gene Gotach showed the way in Class A when he captured the two-mile and five-mile races, and finished second in both the one-half and one-mile events. Richard Sauer gave Gotach close competition by finishing second in points and winning both the one-half and one-mile events. Ray George, novice rider, rode a heady race in Class A and finished in third position, with Bobby Pohl, the popular junior rider, riding closely to land fourth place.

The summaries follow:
Class A—One-half mile, Richard Sauer, first; Gene Gotach, second; Ray George, third; Al Talghader Jr., fourth.
Class A—One mile, Richard Sauer, first; Eugene Gotach, second; Robert Pohl, third; Al Talghader Jr., fourth.

Class B—One-half mile, Al Talghader Jr., first; Bill Britt Jr., second; Gene Gotach, third; Richard Sauer, fourth.
Class B—One mile, Bill Britt Jr., first; Al Talghader Jr., second; Eugene Gotach, third; Richard Sauer, fourth.
Class B—Two miles, Eugene Gotach, first; Al Talghader Jr., second; Bobby Pohl, third; Richard Sauer, fourth.
Class C—Five miles, Al Talghader Jr., first; Bill Britt Jr., second; Eugene Gotach, third; Richard Sauer, fourth.

WRAY'S COLUMN

Is Chicago Angry?

IN Chicago there seems to be a boycott of the Comiskey I owned baseball club by the fans. A newspaper series as to "What's Wrong With the White Sox" is current.

There is, of course, the logical answer: "Everything." But it doesn't satisfy. Chicago papers are open minded. And while answers have been made, we gather that the reply the press is waiting for is one that will indict the owners and officers of the club, rather than the managers who have come and gone.

COMISKEY
Looking back over the White Sox record under all sorts of leaders since the memorable scandal year of 1919, we learn that after 1920 the Sox have never finished higher than fifth. They have finished last twice and may finish there again this year. They finished next to last five times, sixth once and fifth five times. In fourteen seasons they have not been out of second division.

Lost $400,000 in Players.
Now a normal explanation might be that the White Sox have never recovered from the ruling made by Judge Landis in 1920 when he declared that the members of the White Sox (who had been acquitted of the charge of conspiracy to throw games) "could never play again in organized baseball limits"—a view which all organized baseball not only upheld at the time, but has maintained ever since.

This at once blows took away the punch of the team. Seven players whose value today would be reckoned at not less than $400,000 could they be put on the market now, were lost to the club, which could not have bought adequate replacement, even if its owner wanted to invest that much money.

The outright taking away of the club in financial and playing strength seriously. The next year the once great club finished seventh.

Not Altogether to Blame.
Now the critics are "riding" Nels Comiskey, Harry Grabiner and the management for not doing something about it. As we have read newspaper the Comiskays and the Grabiners seem to have sent a lot of good money after bad since 1920.

Several really considerable sums for players in an effort to build up the team by purchase. For the most part their money has been spent unavailingly.

Perhaps some of the critics would like to do better with the team which has been under many managers in a decade and seen many changes in personnel without getting anywhere.

Perhaps it may be recalled that Comiskey's team was wrecked in 1915 quite as thoroughly as was Comiskey's only Connie profited where the White Sox suffered an immense loss. It may also be recalled that in the effort to come back Connie Mack remained in last place seven years and that it was fifteen years before he finally arrived.

In the last two seasons the White Sox have made moves that seemed to prove their good intent. Eventually they may be convicted of failure, but not, it seems to us, of lack of effort to build up.

They Fall for Anything.
JOE FOLEY, matchmaker of the Chicago Stadium, is trying to arrange one of those championship matches between the Happy Family Champion of wrestling, Jim London, and Ed Lewis, who has been champion so many times the keeper of the celestial adding machine must wonder if his count is right.

Joe must have wrestled a long time with this idea before it finally took him. That he eventually fell for it may be some consolation over intelligence.

Still a Chance.
The defeat of our two tennis Aces, Wood and Shields, by Crawford and Perry at Wimbledon seems to make even more credible the previous predictions of Davis Cup team.

Apparently Crawford of Australia and Perry of England have something on our performers. But that doesn't close the gates of hope. Even should both win their singles matches against our players, there still remain the British and Australian second string men which afford our players and the doubles a chance to do their stuff.

At this writing the only sure point the Americans seem to have is the doubles—they will probably win that from both opponents.

But, should Crawford win both his matches in the European Zone final from our boys, there still would be a reasonable chance that both Shields and Wood might beat Vivian McGrath in the other two singles. There is a remote chance that one or the other might beat Crawford.

The betting is not worse than 5 to 1 against our winning the zone final. If Shields and Wood are both at their best it may be that they will meet England in the challenge round.

TILDEN WINNER OVER GLEDHILL IN "PRO" FINAL

Big Bill Tilden carried off first prize money by defeating Keith Gledhill, tall Californian, in the final round of the Clayton professional tennis championship on last night. The former world's amateur champion thrilled some 1200 fans with a varied attack which gave him the victory in four sets, 10-3, 2-6, 6-3, 6-4.

Tilden's troublesome ankle appeared to slow him up a little in the opening set. Gledhill also had something to do with prolonging it as he carried Bill to 14 games before he finally arrived.

In the second set Tilden led at 2 to 1 in games but the Californian began a placement attack which gave him five straight games and the set, 6-2.

Tilden took the first three games of the third set due to some brilliant placements. The timing on his shots was splendid and he gained most of his points by driving to Gledhill's backhand. Gledhill then came in for some good placements and evened the score. Gledhill then weakened as Tilden ran out the set.

The next set went to 4-4 in games after which Tilden's varied placements gave him two straight games for the set, 6-4, and the match. It was the best singles match of the series. In the preliminary of the impending defeat of Davis Cup team.

Apparently Crawford of Australia and Perry of England have something on our performers. But that doesn't close the gates of hope. Even should both win their singles matches against our players, there still remain the British and Australian second string men which afford our players and the doubles a chance to do their stuff.

At this writing the only sure point the Americans seem to have is the doubles—they will probably win that from both opponents.

But, should Crawford win both his matches in the European Zone final from our boys, there still would be a reasonable chance that both Shields and Wood might beat Vivian McGrath in the other two singles. There is a remote chance that one or the other might beat Crawford.

The betting is not worse than 5 to 1 against our winning the zone final. If Shields and Wood are both at their best it may be that they will meet England in the challenge round.

THE fans put Rollie Hensley on The list of all-star men! Then Joey Cronin turned around. And took him off again.

But cheer up, Rollie, don't feel sad. The fans are strong for you. And Joey Cronin will feel bad Before this thing is through.

Oh, Oh!
"Lefty Grove Has Tonells Removed." By the time they get through with him, there will not be much left of Lefty.

See where 143 runs and 197 hits were produced in the two major leagues Friday. Indicating that Lefty Rabbit was having a field day.

The Cincinnati Reds deny that they are cousins to the Cardinals and say that the only relationship that exists between the two clubs is of a business nature.

As a matter of fact, the Reds have gone a step-father (do you get it) and made the Cards call 'em Uncle on several occasions.

Dorothy Round was just too good for Helen Jacobs and it was just too bad for America at Wimbledon, as far as the singles were concerned. The net results were exactly nothing.

GRANT DEFEATS BUDGE TO GAIN NATIONAL CLAY COURTS HONORS

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, July 9.—Bryan Grant of Atlanta, the smallest big time player of them all, sat on the national clay court tennis throne today for the second time since 1930.

"Blitz" ascended the throne for the second time yesterday to duplicate Big Bill Tilden's record on clay by defeating Donald Budge, Oakland (Cal.) high school boy, in straight sets, 6-2, 8-6, 6-3.

The victory marked the fourth consecutive title the little man from Atlanta has won since he hauled out his racket some weeks ago, determined to prove that it was a mistake to keep him off America's Davis Cup team.

He started his winning streak by taking the Dille Invitation, continued by capturing the Southern and Western, and mopped up the national clay court field

THREE-YEAR-OLD TITLE AT STAKE IN ARLINGTON CLASSIC

CAVALCADE AND 11 OTHERS ARE LIKELY TO RUN NEXT SATURDAY

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, July 2.—The three-year-old championship of the American turf will be decided beyond all question of a doubt, if any exists, with the seventh running of the $40,000 Arlington classic at Arlington Park next Saturday.

The prospective field shaped up today with 12 starters, led with the "big four" naturally dominating for the mile and a quarter test.

They are:
Mrs. Isabel Dodge Stoddard's Cavalcade, winner of the Kentucky Derby, American Derby, Detroit Derby and Chesapeake Stakes, and second, beaten by a nose, by the stablemate, High Quest, in the Freehanded.

Joseph B. Widener's Peace Stakes, winner of the Belmont Stakes in the fastest time in the history of the mile and a half race, Alfred G. Vanderbilt's Discovery, victorious in the Brooklyn Handicap, and second in the Kentucky Derby, American Derby and third in the Chesapeake Stakes and Freehanded.

Mrs. Stoddard's other three-year-old star, High Quest, winner of the Freehanded, Wood Memorial Stakes and second in the Belmont.

The other starters possibly will be Gallant Mac, Riddick, Flight, Howard, Tennessee, New Deal, Rose Cross and Patchpocket. The game little filly, Mata Hari, which challenged Cavalcade three times this year probably will be among the missing when the race gets live up for the classic.

For the last six years the Arlington classic has decided the three-year-old championship, except possibly the year when A. C. Bestwick's Mate beat Twenty Grand, and the argument as to the merits of those two colts as three-year-olds still is raging.

MUNY LEAGUER FRACTURES LEG SLIDING TO BASE

The St. Louis C. C. nine in general and Eddie Derrin in particular was hammering late this morning for the team led its game yesterday to the Sentinel de Malaya, 4-1, and also lost Derrin for the remainder of the season when he broke his leg sliding into second base.

The team, playing in the Mount City League, were tied for first prior to the game and the victory gave the Sentinels a full game margin. Keller, pitching for the Sentinels, allowed only six hits, while his teammates were pounding out 12 against the C. C. nine.

In the Diamond Four League the Sentinels and the Donnellis pounded the ball to all corners of the field in a previous contest and won 10 innings and ended in a 20-20 tie. The Donnellis getting 21 hits and the Sentinels 21.

The Donnellis scored six runs in the fifth inning, and in that same inning the Sentinels scored three runs. Going into the ninth inning, the Donnellis led, 18-17. Scoring two more runs in the ninth, the Donnellis appeared to have the victory, but the Sentinels countered their heavy hitting and scored three times in the ninth to tie the score again. Neither team counted in the tenth and the game was called on account of darkness.

Collins of the Sentinels took over time at bat and got the Sentinels to the plate. King of the Donnellis had five out of seven to lead his team's attack.

In contrast to the heavy barrage laid down by the Sentinels and Donnellis, the Sentinels and Donnellis of the North Side League also played a 10-inning game, but it ended in a 1-0 victory for the Williams. Goode, hurling for the victors, allowed but five hits.

The game was in the Empire League, took the lead again, winning, 15-3, as the Western nine lost to the Columbians, 7-2.

Jackson, Suffering From Eye Injury, Is Expected to Start In All-Star Battle, Tomorrow

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, July 2.—Shelving for a day the strife and strain of the major league pennant races, all-star teams of the American and National Leagues will take the field tomorrow at the Polo Grounds for the sake of sweet charity and the fulfillment of the baseball fan's mid-summer day dream.

The National League park is expected to be jammed to its capacity of 32,000 customers, paying from 50 cents to $2.50 to witness the star spectacle, and contributing liberally to a "take" of nearly $50,000 for the benefit of the Players' Relief Fund. The game is scheduled at 11:30 a. m. St. Louis time, and will be broadcast over NBC and CBS networks.

It may seem like just another afternoon's chase to the players themselves, hand-picked in keeping with most of fan's preference, but to the baseball following public all large it is the most glamorous event of the entire year, bringing together the athletes whose names take the headlines or top these innumerable columns of statistics daily, from April to October.

First meeting of Pair.
How will Carl Hubbell, an out-paw of the world champion Giants, fare against a batting order topped by Charley Gehringer, Heinie Manush, Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig, with Frank Higgins, Al Simmons, Joe Cronin and Bill Dickey bringing up the rear-guard of sluggers? Can Lefty Gomez, the American League's foremost moundman, battle a lineup headed by Frank Frisch, Pie Traynor, Joe Mauer, Cuyler or Mel Ott, Bill Terry, Travis Jackson and Gabby Hartnett or Al Lopez?

These are questions that may be answered at the outset, for Gomez and Hubbell have been nominated to start the game. It will be the first time the two most talked-about southpaws in baseball have opposed each other, with the Yankee star matching his great speed against the more subtle offerings, including the famous "screw ball" of the Giant ace.

On the basis of their last performances, on Saturday, neither Gomez nor Hubbell may be the "ball" of the game that their followers anticipate. Fortunately for the Americans, the Yankee southpaw was hit on the right elbow instead of the left arm in the accident that marred his winning, though not too impressive, effort against the Senators. On the same afternoon, the Brooklyn Dodgers chased Hubbell from the box with some lusty clouting.

Will Use All Players.
Terry, the playing pilot of the Nationals and the only port-side hitter in the probable starting lineup against Gomez, expects to use most if not all four of his right-handers. In the order in which they may appear they are: Lou Warneke, Dixie Dean, Van Mungo and Fred Frankhouse. Cronin's pitching alternates, also entirely right-handed, are Ruffing, Mel Harder, Tommy Bridges and Jack Russell.

Because of the desire to let all 20 men on each side see some action, even if only as a pinch hitter, there will be frequent changes. Cronin has Mickey Cochrane and Rick Ferrell to substitute for Dickey behind the bat, Jimmie Fox and Jimmy Dykes as infield replacements, with Sam West, Earl Averill and Ben Chapman for outfield.

Terry, the playing pilot of the Nationals and the only port-side hitter in the probable starting lineup against Gomez, expects to use most if not all four of his right-handers. In the order in which they may appear they are: Lou Warneke, Dixie Dean, Van Mungo and Fred Frankhouse. Cronin's pitching alternates, also entirely right-handed, are Ruffing, Mel Harder, Tommy Bridges and Jack Russell.

MEDICA LANDS THIRD TITLE IN NATIONAL SWIM

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, July 2.—Jack Medica, America's greatest free-style swimmer, probably will run into an opportunity to learn just how good he is in the near future, against the Japanese stars who dominated the aquatic division of the last Olympic Games.

Medica, University of Washington sophomore, who collected the bulk of the honors in the National A. U. championship meet which closed yesterday, Arthur Highland of Northwestern University, and Albert Vande Weyhe of the Newark, N. J. A. C. have been chosen to represent the United States in the near future, against the Japanese stars who dominated the aquatic division of the last Olympic Games.

In the 400, he was about two seconds faster than the official world record set in 1925 by Arne Borg of Sweden.

Medica demonstrated his superiority during the last three days of last week, when he swam off with three national titles—440 yards, 880 yards and one mile—with the greatest of ease.

In collecting his chief rival, Ralph Flanagan of Miami, Fla., Medica swam the mile in 20:15, nine seconds faster than the official world record set in 1925 by Arne Borg of Sweden.

LONDON, July 9.—Europe's political outlook, including the French-sponsored security pacts for Eastern Europe, were discussed at an opening conference today between Louis Barthou, French Foreign Minister, and Sir John Simon, Foreign Secretary of Great Britain.

Sir John gave a luncheon in honor of Barthou, at which the only person present not directly connected with the Anglo-French discussions was Arthur Henderson, president of the World Disarmament Conference.

An afternoon session, an official announcement said, was to be devoted to naval matters with Francois Pieter, Naval Minister of France, and Sir Bolton Eyres-Monsell, British Lord of the Admiralty, and others participating actively with Barthou and Simon.

Stanley Baldwin, acting British Prime Minister, did not attend today's conversations but will give a luncheon for Barthou at 11 Downing street tomorrow.

Barthou has been on a tour of the Balkan states building up France's diplomatic alliances. In Rumania he was made a citizen of the country.

Diary in Which Four Indians Drew Pictures of Exploits, Found in Grave

Each Murdered Previous Owner, Surmise
Translators of Drawings in Old Account Book.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, July 9.—A "diary" kept by four men in succession, after each had presumably murdered the previous owner, is being translated by scientists here. In the picture writing of four Indians in the days of the Indian wars, it was found in the grave of the last owner and brought to the Smithsonian Institution where experts are translating its contents with the aid of Richard Sander-ville, aged Blackfoot Indian.

The diary was kept in the pages of an old account book, presumably seized by an Indian from a soldier. In it the owners recorded their exploits, such as the taking of scalps, which constitutes the chief claim to distinction among the tribes of the Great Plains—the Sioux, Blackfoot, Crow and others.

Found in Idaho Grave.
But Crane became an example of the Biblical warning that he who lives by the sword shall die by the sword. His slayer was an Indian named Howling Wolf, whose tribe is uncertain. Dramatically enough, on the last page of the book Howling Wolf depicts himself addressing an Indian peace conference. On the ground before him are a scalp and a peace pipe. Finally he will pick up one or the other, and it will mean peace or war.

The diary was found in what is believed to have been Howling Wolf's grave, which was uncovered during excavations for a railroad near Lewiston, Idaho. It was sent to the Smithsonian Institution by the Historical Museum and Art Department of Idaho.

By the Associated Press.
BASEL, Switzerland, July 9.—World financiers hope, it was revealed yesterday, to turn the Bank for International Settlements into an instrument for solving complex inter-governmental monetary problems on a wide scale, including clearance of postal and telegraph payments and international rail and air travel fees.

To carry out this ambitious scheme, financiers admit, co-operation of the United States would be necessary, and the plans are being talked about during the visit here of George L. Harrison, Governor of the New York Federal Reserve Bank.

By the Associated Press.
ROME, July 9.—The Italian Government's deficit apparently has been checked by Mussolini's drastic reduction of salaries and his deflation program.

The Treasury situation in May revealed a much smaller figure to put in red ink than hitherto. The deficit was 212,000,000 lire. (The lira currently is 8.50 cents.) The average deficit for the previous 10 months of the fiscal year was 353,000,000 lire, and the deficit in May, 1933, was 395,000,000. The fiscal year closed June 30 with 4,000,000,000 lire in the red, or 1,000,000,000 more than had been estimated.

HITLER'S METHODS TOO BARBARIC FOR ITALIAN FASCISTS

Killing in Street Fights Is

German "Executions"

LITTLE COMMENT IN MUSSOLINI'S PRESS

Nazi Suppression of "Revolt" Treated Somewhat as Exercise in Political Procedure.

By the Associated Press.
ROME, July 8.—The suppression by Chancellor Adolf Hitler of the Nazi "revolt" has been accepted officially in Italy with a show of the most exemplary objectivity, behind which, however, it has been possible to discover a number of perhaps unexpected reactions. The natural desire to praise the Hitler display of strength as keeping with the Fascist spirit appears to have been checked by a certain repugnance to the cold-blooded brutality.

However ruthless may be Fascist oratory, and however uncomfortable the enemies of the regime of this country have been made (and the claim that the Black Shirt revolution was the most sanguinary in history is a stock platform phrase in Italy), it remains a fact that the Hitler method of executing "traitors" out of hand appears somewhat abnormal even to the most orthodox Fascists.

Hitler's Method Criticized.
Not that the question is one of the right to take life for political reasons. Rather it is one of method. Perhaps the most accurate summary of the Italian attitude would be found in the remark of an active member of the Black Shirt party who said to this correspondent:

"What a fantastic people are the Germans! Anybody can understand how people get killed when there is fighting in the streets. That is all right. But this thing of cold execution without even a trial—that is barbaric."

Whatever objections could be raised to this attitude on the ground of moral hair-splitting, it appears accurately to reflect opinion evident in many quarters. Perhaps the shock of the Nazi execu-

POPE SUPPORTS DRIVE ON INDECENT MOVIES

Pontiff Assures Cardinal Dougherty His Prayers Are for Success of Campaign.

By the Associated Press.

VATICAN CITY, July 9.—Pope Pius yesterday granted to Dennis Cardinal Dougherty of Philadelphia the privilege of using his name as a "whole-hearted supporter" of the campaign of American bishops against indecent motion pictures.

"His Holiness once more discussed our campaign with me and said I could use his name in its support," said the Cardinal after an hour-long farwell interview with the Pope yesterday morning.

"He once more assured me of his approval and gave his apostolic benediction to the undertaking," added Cardinal Dougherty, to whom the Pope gave assurance that his prayers are for the success of the campaign.

The Cardinal discussed spiritual and other problems of the United States with the Pontiff, who extended his apostolic blessing to the leader and the people of his archdiocese.

After the audience, Cardinal Dougherty presented his niece, Mrs. Mary Boyland of Philadelphia and her children.

Cardinal Dougherty plans to leave Rome Tuesday, stopping at Florence, Turin and various other points before sailing for home on the Olympic Aug. 22.

Movie Producers Decide on "Certificate of Purity."

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., July 9.—Movies in the future must carry a "certificate of purity," the Association of Motion Picture Producers and Distributors, headed by Will H. Hays, announced yesterday.

Under the new order, effective July 15, it was stated, to attain the stamp of purity and approval each motion picture must pass a rigid censorship inspection as outlined in the code of ethics of the film organization, composed of the leading producers in Hollywood.

Joseph I. Breen, assistant to Hays, will have unlimited power in judging the films of the future.

METHODIST PASTOR SUPPORTS CLEAN MOVIES CAMPAIGN

The Rev. Dr. Loren M. Edwards Says Protestants Should Join Catholic Campaign.

Protestants and Catholics should unite with Catholics in the effort to reform moving pictures, the Rev. Dr. Loren M. Edwards, pastor of Grace Methodist Episcopal Church, declared yesterday in a sermon on "Comforting Critics."

"Just now a good many people are interested in the move to purge the motion pictures of falsity of advertising and indecency of exhibition," he said. "Movies are patronized by millions, including adults, young people and children. What they see and hear in these screen displays is determinative of character forming. False scenes of love, excessive sex appeals, the display of undeserved wealth, the cleverness of wits, against the diligence of toil, freedom from the customary loyalties of life—these and other oft-repeated themes make the movies a menace to our generation. For one, I commend with all heartiness the present movement on the part of the Catholic League of Decency and the earnest effort being put forth by Catholic leaders to reform the films. Protestants and Jews are one with our Roman brethren in this effort and should stand unitedly for the purging of the screen."

"Business interests and material items need a thorough house cleaning, while social and moral conditions must be regenerated. Honor, honesty, purity, morality, regard for the home and marriage, respect for parenthood—all must be reconditioned. Crime is rampant, and life is so fragile it is easily and nonchalantly destroyed; and yet criticism for all these and other items of life must be with full understanding for the facts, with deep sympathy for those involved and with positive and constructive suggestion for future procedure. Only thus can we truly have comforting critics."

Arthur E. Morgan Declares Spiritual Awakening Is Necessary in United States.

By the Associated Press.

CAPE MAY, N. J., July 9.—Arthur E. Morgan, president of Antioch College and director of the Tennessee Valley Authority, said yesterday America cannot get a new deal "out of private privilege or public patronage."

Addressing the Friends' General Conference, Morgan asserted America "will win a new deal, if at all, through the actual practice day by day of the principles which were both taught and practiced so long ago by the Great Teacher we all revere."

"The new deal will be a reality first by a great spiritual awakening of the people. The orthodox Socialists may take exception to this, but we can tell whether a spiritual awakening is true or false by whether it concerns itself with a self-regard for personal salvation or whether it leads men actually to give up their privileges and special interests in passionate commitment to the good of all men."

ANTI-SALOON LEADER SAYS PROHIBITION IS COMING BACK

F. A. Tate Asserts Repeal Has Brought New Records for Drunkenness.

Repeal of the eighteenth amendment has been a complete failure, and prohibition is on the way back, F. A. Tate, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Missouri, declared yesterday in an address at Union Methodist Episcopal Church.

"Public sentiment is rapidly crystallizing against the so-called liquor control plans now in operation in the several states," Tate asserted. "Five months of practically unrestrained liquor distribution, both legal and illegal, has brought in its train new records for drunkenness, more drinking by women and children, and increased automobile accidents and fatalities, to mention but a few of the outstanding results of repeal which are working the change in sentiment."

Tate asserted the Democratic party had "surrendered to the liquor traffic," that virtually all restrictive liquor laws had been made innocuous by failure of enforcement and that there was a growing conviction on the part of those who had voted for repeal that they had been made victims of a "colossal hoax."

3 INGREDIENTS OF HAPPINESS

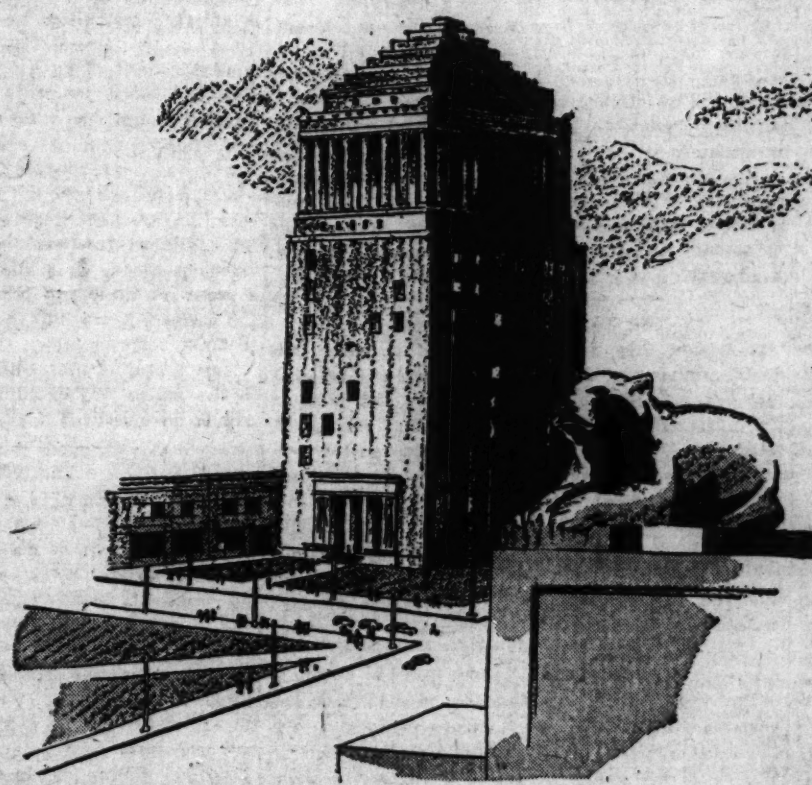

Religious Faith, Bankroll and Wife, Says Educator.

NEW YORK, July 9.—Religious faith, a bankroll and a wife are the three principal ingredients of happiness, according to Dr. Randolph Saylor of Teachers' College, Columbia University.

Dr. Saylor, who has just published the result of his "happiness survey" of 500 men, said: "Bachelors are inclined to brood. Happiness varies in inverse proportion to your bankroll. And religious people are happier than those who do not have faith in God."

PAYS more than $1740 per day in city and state taxes

In 1933 The Laclede Gas Light Company paid to the City of St. Louis and the State of Missouri in taxes over $1,740 per day, in addition to income taxes and Federal and State taxes on bond interest. It also paid taxes indirectly on practically all the materials and supplies it used.

THE amount paid in taxes in 1933 was more than 40 per cent of the total wages of 1,361 employees of the Company.

THE amount paid in taxes in 1933 was greater than the cost of more than 120,000 tons (2,400 carloads) of coal.

In 1933 it took the total money received from more than 21,000 average domestic customers to pay the taxes of the Company.

TAXES paid by privately owned Public Utilities represent a large portion of money collected for City, County and State Governmental expenses. Municipally owned Utilities in Missouri represent an investment in excess of One Hundred Million Dollars ($100,000,000), but they contribute nothing toward the cost of government.

THE $1,740 in taxes per day that we paid was used to support schools, to provide police and fire protection, to maintain libraries and parks, and for other public purposes.

Narrow Changes in Prices the Rule—Some Specialties Are Improved But Leaders Only About Steady Up to Late.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, July 9.—The stock market remained in a generally static condition today as most potential speculators and investors watched for signs and portents which might indicate the direction "the cat may jump."

Narrow changes marked the dull trading in shares. Only 20,000 shares changed hands between 10 o'clock and 2 o'clock, with the day's total turnover expected to approximate 275,000 shares. Some specialties were improved, but leaders, including U. S. Steel, Santa Fe and American Telephone, were only about steady up to late. Case lost a point.

Prices, as a whole, were rather in period up to early afternoon steady and the slow specialists stepped out for a faint of their own. The difference of traders was shown by the fact that American Telephone delayed its opening for more than an hour. Many other stocks did not make their appearance at all up to early afternoon.

Cotton spurred around $1.50 a bale following publication of the Government's acreage report which showed a drop in expected reduction. Grains were hesitant, with wheat dropping about a cent a bushel at one time. Silver futures lagged and rubber was stationary. U. S. Treasury securities again edged up to "new highs" and other listed bonds were steady to firm. International dollar rates recorded only minor changes.

Shares of General Railway Signal, Westinghouse, American Sugar Refining and American Smelting and Refining Products got up 1 to 2 points in another American Sugar reached another new 1934 top. A fairly firm tone was also displayed by Great Western Sugar, Santa Fe, U. S. Smelting, Cerro de Pasco, Santa Fe, Allied Chemical, American Telephone, Columbia Carbon, du Pont, Chrysler and General Motors. The majority of the rails were unchanged, as were U. S. Steel, Consolidated Gas, Eastman Kodak, National Distillers and others. The new Armour of Illinois stocks were admitted to trading, but they shifted about narrowly. Amusement issues, including Fox and Loew's, were a trifle heavy.

The Magazine Trade.
The "magazine trade" said a rebound to at least 30 per cent in steel output was anticipated for this week, following the recent decline, around 22 per cent of capacity. The result of price reductions last week was shown in a drop in the magazine's index of finished steel prices to $54.10, off $1.40, but higher than the level at which most booked.

Recent appreciation in food prices and other commodities was reflected in the monthly cost of living index compiled by the National Industrial Conference Board, the index showing an increase of 3 of 1 per cent in June.

The dollar gained against most foreign currencies in early trading. German marks were weak. The British pound opened off 1/4 of a cent at $5.04. French francs rose 1/4 of a cent to 6.69 cents.

FOREIGN MARKETS AT A GLANCE
By the Associated Press.
LONDON, July 9.—With a cheerful prevailing trading for the new account changes today. Investment buying improved, but mining stocks lost part of early improvement. The London market closed steady.

PARIS, July 9.—Quotations held steady in an inactive session. The closing was gained half a point. The closing was gained half a point.

STEEL PRODUCTION
LIFTED 4.5 POINTS

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, July 9.—The American Institute of Steel reported that the country's steel output of this week was 27.5 per cent of output, an increase of 4.5 points or 19.5 per cent over the 23 per cent output of the previous week. The rate a month ago was 26.9 per cent.

The rise in mill operations was viewed in the trade as natural reaction to the low level incident to last week's average marked the low point of activity following the peak levels established in May and June.

Cut Credited to Crop Reduction Program and "Restricting Influence" of the Control Act.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The Department of Agriculture today credited the crop reduction program and the "restricting influence" of the Control Act.

It was the smallest crop planted to cotton since 1905, and more than 1,000,000 acres below the expectations of the trade. The bullish importation by the existing was accounted for by a reason of the long-continued drought.

The crop reduction board said the 28,000,000 acres was 31.4 per cent less than the 1905 crop of 44,000,000 acres. The decrease was about 17,000,000 acres less than the average for the five-year period.

The decrease in last year's figures was about 17,000,000 acres, or 38 per cent of the 1905 crop. The decrease was about 17,000,000 acres less than the average for the five-year period.

Heat Marketings and Imports Tend to Unsettled and Barley Firm.

Worth graded No. 1 dark hard, the average protein of the Texas wheat estimated at about 16.5 per cent. No. 1 soft winter was quoted at Port Worth refined Texas common points at 94¢ 97¢ per bushel, with a premium on 70 cent protein. No. 2 hard winter was quoted at Chicago at 91¢ 92¢, at St. Louis 90¢ 91¢ and at Denver 2 1/2 h. Colorado, Wyoming of Western Nebraska shipping points at 71¢ per bushel.

Soft winter wheat was in active demand, with mills having difficulty in securing sufficient quantities of low protein hard wheat for rolling mixtures. Marketings were unusually heavy at St. Louis for early in the season, but offerings were readily taken by mills and elevator operators. Choice pump grain was in better

Spring wheat markets were relatively steady, although marketings were relatively light. Receipts at Minneapolis totaled only 458 cars, about 100 more than were new Southwestern winter wheat. Arrivals at Duluth totaled 223 cars. However, the demand was only moderate, with buyers inclined to purchase the July option corn delivery rather than the prevailing cash premiums. No. 1 dark Northern, 12 per cent to 15 per cent protein, was quoted at $1.00 at Minneapolis, a 50-cent advance over the new September price of $1.45. No. 1 heavy sold at $0.75 for the September, while wheat with over 15 per cent brought 50¢ per bushel premium for each additional half per cent of protein. The protein of the week's receipts at Minneapolis averaged 13.55 per cent. Durum prices held about unchanged, with the relatively slight offerings in fair demand. Good quality durum was scarce and continued to protein was quoted at $30.95 per bushel. Foreign wheat markets generally were steady despite fairly heavy offerings. Southern Hemisphere grain prices at Winnipeg held practically unchanged. No. 1 Manitoba Northern quoted at 78.94¢ per bushel. Spring wheat prospects improved with rains falling over most of the prairie provinces during the week, but export inquiry was more active with a slight movement that grain in store at Liverpool had become inflated with a bid of 100.00¢ to be applied on contract sales. Argentina wheat was offered freely with shipments for the week totaling over 3,000,000 bushels. Australian shipments totaled about 1,567,000 bushels, and the U.S. wheat shipments amounted to only 24,000 bushels. At the close of the week Argentina wheat was quoted in the United Kingdom at 63.94¢, No. 2 Manitoba from Atlantic Ports at 81.94¢ and No. 1 Manitoba at 83.94¢ per bushel. A feature of Continental European markets was the heavy 50c per bushel in prices of native wheat at Paris. Prices of local wheat at Hamburg were decided about the same as wheat

FEED GRAIN MARKETS—Feed grain markets were barely stirred during the week as the result of improved prospects for corn, but the situation is much firmer than a year ago, with rapidly increasing wheat supplies and prospects of only a moderate crop of corn and very short harvests of oats and barley. Trade estimates July 1 placed the corn crop slightly below the small outturn of 1934. Stocks of corn are 250,000 to 300,000 bushels smaller than last season's, and prospective supplies for the 1934-35 season are well below the current season's short stocks. Supplies of oats from private indications will be only a little over one-half of average domestic estimates for recent years. Stocks of old oats are nearly exhausted and trade estimates place the 1934 crop at less than 600,000 bushels, or about 125,000-300,000 bushels below last season's and current crop. The present condition of barley indicates a crop and unusually light with arrivals at the principal terminus during the first half of the year. The number of bushels of corn this year 4,725,000 bushels of corn and about 400,000 bushels of oats. Requirements for corn was not acute despite the offerings reflecting reduced feed requirements. The number of hogs on the market at the close of the year was less than a year ago, with a prospective decrease of 35 per cent in the number of hogs to be marketed this fall. At the close of the market—July 8, 1930, 3 yellow corn were quoted at Chicago at 50 1/4c, 40c at St. Louis, 40c at Kansas City at 57 1/4c 58 1/4c per bushel. No. 2 yellow corn was quoted at Denver 40c, shipping points at 48 1/4c, and at Fort Worth delivered Texas Gro. 3 points at 77c per bushel.

Oats and barley markets were independently firm. The extremely light offering of oats was not a ready sale, although demand was not urgent. No. 3, white oats of western origin sold at Chicago 43 1/2c, Minneapolis at 42 1/2c, Kansas City at 41 1/2c 42c and at St. Louis 43c 44c. Demand for malting barley chores were firmly held at both markets. Choices to fancy matting barley was quoted at Minneapolis at 91¢/bu and at Chicago at 89¢/bu per bushel. Feed barley was quoted at Chicago at 81¢/bu and at Minneapolis at 80¢/bu per bushel. No. 3 barley was quoted at Kansas City at 57¢/bu 55¢/bu per bushel.

SPAN PLANNING FORTIFICATIONS FOR BALEARICS

Said to Contemplate the Expenditure of $130,000,000, Mostly in the U. S., for Equipment.

By the Associated Press. MADRID, July 8.—Spain is planning fortifications for the Balearic Islands in the Mediterranean Sea to cost a billion pesetas (about $130,000,000).

The Spanish Government has asked the United States for specifications on armaments and data on the cost of big guns, anti-aircraft artillery and coast defense equipment.

It is said that officials are convinced that American arms and equipment of the type needed to make the strategic group of islands impregnable are the best obtainable anywhere in the world at present. Because of this conviction, it is said, Spain has made a study of American equipment, believing as deeply as possible without infringing on American Government secrets.

Although the Balearic Islands' defense plans are a closely-guarded military secret, it is learned the project calls for two, four, six, eight and 10-year building programs, the costs of which are to be distributed over the whole period.

The program is designed to encircle the three major islands, Mallorca, Minorca and Ibiza, with a chain of steel and stone fortifications of the most modern design. Defensive armaments, it was understood, are to include disappearing anti-airway guns of the largest caliber in use anywhere. Spanish mills have had no experience constructing such weapons.

A fleet of swift, armored speedboats carrying quick-fire and machine guns also is projected. The purpose of these little boats is to attack landing parties.

Data is also being sought from America on submarine nets, mines and torpedoes.

These warlike preparations in reality are peaceful protective measures, it is contended.

tions has made the Italians somewhat reluctant to develop the idea that Hitler may have found some inspiration for his energetic display at the recent meeting with Premier Mussolini at Venice. Stopping short of the unpleasant matter of executions, it is evident that the strong hand with troublesome lieutenants is a policy long followed with success by the Italian dictator. No personal sympathies ever have been allowed to stand in Mussolini's way when judgment dictated removal, whether by exile, prison or promotion. Other facts also have contributed to the feeling that Hitler may still have been acting under the stimulus of the Venice meeting.

Conference at Venice.

In the first place, it is known they spent a considerable part of their four hours alone talking not about international affairs, but about theories and practices of Fascism and dictatorships. Moreover, even if the discussion did not actually lead to personalities, it has long been known that Mussolini disapproved strongly of the lenient methods of his German prototype in dealing with lieutenants. And, third, so far as the Italian public goes, it must be recorded that the impression the Nazi dictator made in Venice was so negative in comparison with their own overlord that it is difficult to imagine him in such a role as he has since assumed.

All these, however, are reflections which have passed around unofficially. Although generous in space, censorship has limited the Fascist press to be circumspect in reporting events. Hitler's complete mastery of the situation has been asserted to, and no doubt is raised as to the future. While some inconclusive speculation has been allowed concerning the "foreign power" said by the Nazis to be involved in the abortive revolt, on the whole the event has been treated as one without international significance except possibly as an exercise in political methods.

Criticism, however, has crept in from the Vatican and it is not unlikely that the death-vigorously described as the execution, not suicide of an official in the Catholic action, who had been active in attempting to conciliate the quarrel between the Vatican and the Nazis may have considerably related the chances for such a conciliation.

B. V. Hubbard, 86, Dies in Chicago. CHICAGO, July 8.—Benjamin Vestal Hubbard, 86 years old, lawyer and author of books on political science and insurance, died Saturday. In 1925 he established the B. V. Hubbard Fund for Morgan County (Ind.) high schools to encourage the study of art and political science.

Funeral of Clarence J. Richards. Funeral services for Clarence J. Richards, 4417 Forest Park avenue, will be held at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the Kriegerhaus Chapel. BASEL AS WORLD CLEARING HOUSE FINANCERS' PLAN a dinner given in his honor last night by Leon Fraser, American president of the bank. Prominent officials were present.

Range Extended. This "shop talk" took a wider range last night when Fraser invited all governors of central banks to meet Harrison at dinner for continuation of frank exchanges of views.

Directors of the bank today instructed that a new protest be sent to Germany against the moratorium on Dawes and Young loans, interpreted as an attempt to protect the interests of American holders of the bonds.

They instructed Leon Fraser, president of the bank, to register the protest.

Fifty per cent of the Dawes loan and 30 per cent of the Young loan are held by Americans.

Fraser wrote a letter this afternoon to the German Finance Minister, using the recent Anglo-German agreement regarding payment of Dawes and Young loan interest as a lever to obtain similar treatment for all bondholders, irrespective of their country of residence.

Fraser emphasized that the bonds themselves provide all holders should be treated alike. He expressed delight that Germany had agreed to service bonds held in Great Britain, because he said it indicated that Germany can pay the others, too.

He pointed out that Germany was inconsistent if it held it had no money to pay, then satisfied the demands of British holders alone. Directors of the bank already have brought pressure on Hjalmar Schacht, president of the Reichsbank, who is in Basel, but Schacht was understood to have shrugged his shoulders and said "There are no reserves in the Reichsbank."

ONION FIELD STRIKERS HELD

23 Arrested by Deputy Sheriffs at Kenton, O.

KENTON, O., July 8.—Twenty-three strikers in the Ohio onion belt were arrested today as several hundred onion weedeaters repeated through their leader, Okay Odell, their intentions to "see this thing through."

Herbert Radcliffe, leader of a corps of deputy sheriffs, said one deputy was cut on the hand and several strikers suffered minor injuries from clubs when 10 strikers resisted arrest.

Radcliffe said deputies fired several shots from a machine gun at five men they found in a woods along Cottonwood road. The deputies sought to search the five men for weapons, according to Radcliffe, after they had received reports that shots had been fired in the district. The five fled into a cornfield.

Radcliffe said the strikers had attempted to stop five carloads and one truckload of outside workers being taken into the Scioto marshland onion fields by Earl Huston, a grower.

Banks' Stockholders Assessed. Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Levy of 100 per cent assessments, totaling $3,340,000, against the 1943 stockholders of five District of Columbia banks, was announced Saturday by Comptroller of the Currency, J. F. T. O'Connor. Assets of the banks, which are in receivers' hands, were found insufficient to pay creditors in full.

Body of Negro Man Found in River. The body of an unidentified Negro man was taken from the Mississippi River near the Cahokia power plant of the Union Electric Light & Power Co. on the East Side yesterday. The body had been in the water several days. The man was about 40 years old and had on overalls.

Tell me frankly: "Does Old Gold's throat-ease make it a better cigarette for Women?"

asks Carole Lombard
[RECENT OLD GOLD CONVERT]

Dear Miss Lombard:—

You will agree that all smokers, both men and women, prefer a cigarette that's easy on the throat... rather than harsh and raspy.

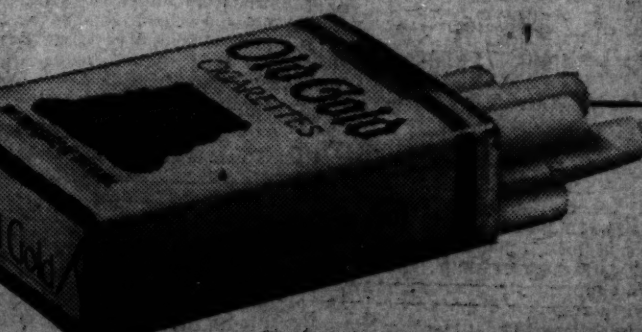

But Old Gold's throat-ease has an additional appeal. The absence of artificial flavoring in Old Gold not only makes it a smoother smoke... but a cleaner smoke... less apt to stain the teeth or to leave objectionable odor in the clothes or on the breath.

We do not say that Old Gold is the only good cigarette for the fastidious woman smoker. But we do say there is no purer or finer cigarette made.

Sincerely,

P. LORILLARD COMPANY, INC.
ESTABLISHED 1760

P. S.—To put it in a nutshell, Miss Lombard: No better tobacco grows than is used in Old Gold. And it's pure. That's why Old Golds are easy on the THROAT AND NERVES.

3 Better Things.

Also Better Movies.

Biggest Gothic Cathedral.

Wonderful Creature, Man.

(By ARTHUR BRISBANE.)
(Copyright, 1934.)

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT, warmly welcomed by marching, singing and praising citizens in Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, hoped to make the new deal reach every corner of the United States, saying: "I believe in better homes, better living conditions and a better chance to earn a living."

Everybody believes in those things, and since the beginning of history, and long before, has been trying to get them. Our ancestors, who believed in better living conditions, selected the driest cave they could find, with a narrow entrance to keep out bears. They strove for better living conditions when they built their little houses on platforms over the lakes or apartment houses on the faces of cliffs for safety. Everybody believes in the "better" trinity, homes, living conditions and chance to earn a living.

The question is, how to provide those things permanently. You cannot do it permanently by taxing those that have solved the problem and accumulated property. The "better chance to earn a living" comes of working harder. Other programs have been suggested, but never successfully developed.

The widespread attack on disgracefully immoral moving pictures has compelled those that trade in indecency to take their minds off the box office for a moment, and consider a serious danger. The crusade against indecency, led by the Catholic Church, and directed by the Archbishop of Baltimore, who began the crusade, has been joined by Jewish synagogues and rabbis, and now many Protestant bodies have decided to take part. Some producers and distributors doubt "that purity is really what the public wants." They will learn that that is what the public intends to have.

The suggestion that all moving pictures and picture theaters be boycotted until offensive pictures vanish seems hardly fair to producers of good pictures. You remember, in the nineteenth chapter of Genesis the conversation between Abraham and the Lord, who was about to destroy the wicked city of Sodom. The Lord said to Abraham: "If I find in Sodom 50 righteous within the city, then I will spare all the place for their sakes." Finally He agreed not to destroy the city if even 10 righteous men were found in it.

Why not deal likewise with moving pictures, boycott and condemn the vicious, praise and promote the good?

Nineteen hundred years ago the Founder of Christianity could say "the forces have holes and the birds of the air have nests; but the Son of man hath nowhere to lay his head." He would find a great change if He should return to earth now. Bishop Manning of New York announces that the Episcopal Cathedral of St. John the Divine has already cost $14,000,000, that $10,000,000 more are needed to complete it and adds that it truly is significant that "in these times" new cathedrals are rising in various parts of the world.

The Cathedral of St. John the Divine when finished will be the biggest Gothic cathedral in the world, bigger than all the Gothic cathedrals you have seen, Notre Dame, in Paris, the more beautiful of Cologne and all the others. It will seat 15,000, with standing room for 40,000, all able to hear thanks to amplifiers. The interior of the new cathedral equals 16,822,000 cubic feet.

It is to be hoped that devout Episcopalians and others will furnish the 10,000,000 more dollars needed, although nobody can be absolutely sure, in these times, with 10,000,000 men idle and many in want, that the Founder of creation would put quite so much money into a church.

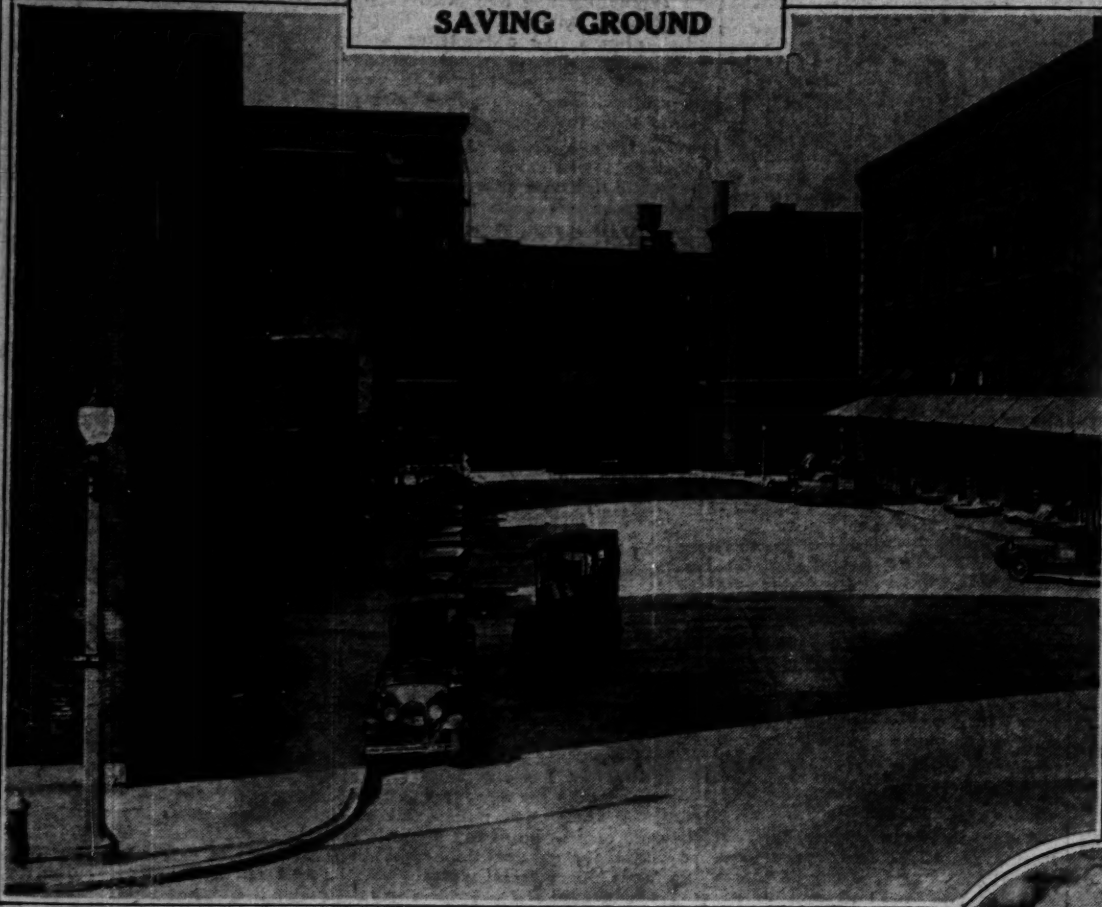

With all his weaknesses, man is an able creature and does wonderful things. Some day he may even stop cheating and killing other men, make competition take the place of competition.

It is interesting to read about three United States army men, Maj. Kepner, Capt. Stevens, Orvil Anderson, preparing for their flight to the stratosphere in an airtight globe of metal, lifted by the biggest gas bag ever made. They begin by spilling a little liquid air and a little liquid oxygen, both compressed from a gaseous to a liquid state, on the floor of their "gondola" that they may breathe. They will rely on this artificially made air throughout the flight.

While they breathe in the good artificial air certain chemicals are arranged in bags to absorb the

Nautical Idea Popular With Boat Dancers

St. Louisans Go in For Sailor Theme — Costumes Are Informal

By Sylvia Stiles

AN EXCURSION boat seems the logical place for the exploitation of the popular nautical fashion theme of the summer, so it is not surprising to find that many of the young women dancing these warm summer evenings display play that influence. On a recent "fraternity night," many of the dancers indulged the sailor theme.

Another interesting phase of boat fashions that was revealed on this evening was that there is less formality of costume. Daytime clothes predominate. Evening fashions which are worn by some indicate a preference for the tailored styling with emphasis upon shirtwaist details.

Illustrating the nautical trend was the costume of Miss Lucille Laughlin. It was of white waffle cotton crepe and had a navy pique sailor collar with a white anchor in one corner. The sleeves were short and of the set-in type. They were tucked at the shoulders, thus giving a fitted line in contrast to the flared edges. The skirt was tailored and had patch pockets on either hip. A dark blue kerchief adorned with a white anchor peeped out of one pocket. A blue pique hat tied in the back with long streamer ends. Miss Laughlin's hat was of navy felt and was harmonious to her frock because of its mannish rolled brim. Her costume was completed by white sandals.

A navy blue and white two-piece frock that was unusual was worn by Miss Maxine Dillingham. The white blouse was designed in the popular basque style and was fastened at the side front with four large dark blue composition buttons. The square scalloped finish to the bottom of the bodice was noteworthy. A collar with rounded scarf ends crossed high at the front of the neck. It was edged with three rows of navy braid. The sleeves were short, pleated at the shoulders, and puffed above the elbows. Two rows of the braid trimmed the tight cuffs. The dark blue skirt had kick pleats at either side of the front. White sandals, white gloves and a close-fitting white straw fabric hat were important assets to this costume.

Brown net fashioned a flattering afternoon dress which made Mrs. Eugene Ballard one of the best dressed young women in the crowd. It was tucked diagonally forming diamond shaped squares. The neckline was square across the front but had a double ruffle which introduced an oval line suggesting a yoke at center front. The blouse extended over the shoulders to form a drooping line. This gave the short puffed sleeves a plain net an originality that was most attractive. Godets were inserted at the front of the skirt to provide fullness below the knees. With this frock Mrs. Ballard wore brown linen sandals.

The popularity of brown in summer fashions was repeated in the frock of Miss Lorraine Craig which was of brown, yellow and white striped crepe. The skirt was striped vertically and the blouse diagonally. A brown taffeta collar trimmed the low V neckline and fastened with a large bow at the front. The skirt was plainly tailored. Especially smart was Miss Craig's small and very jaunty leg-horn hat. The brim turned up slightly at the side back. Brown and white linen sandals emphasized an interesting color alliance.

Among the young women who elected the tailored type of evening frock was Miss Jane Woods who was attractive in a plaid seersucker dress combining shades of tomato, chartreuse, and navy with white.

This was of the shirtwaist type even to the bodice yoke. The high neckline had a narrow turnover collar finished with a small bow of white pique. The very short sleeves had pleats at the shoulders.

Two pink pockets gave additional severity to the tailored lines of the bodice, especially since they were trimmed with white pique buttons. Similar buttons fastened the front of the bodice. The skirt was plain and the wide seersucker belt had a large white pique oval buckle. White pique sandals were well chosen for such a costume.

Place a ball of ice cream in tall glass filled with chilled ginger ale. This makes a refreshing beverage to serve after a bridge game.

Secrets of a Veteran Cook

MULBERRY, Ark., July 8. On top of a hill overlooking the Ozark mountain country lives Randle Reed, a past-master of Southern cooking. For 30 years he has cooked all over the world, at the King Edward Hotel in London and aboard the White Liners. This white-haired Negro chef has relied to the peace and quiet of an ancestral rocky farm but he hasn't forgotten the recipes that cheered many a homesick American.

"It's the bollin' and roastin' of meats what is real Southern cooking," he said, looking down into the valley. "Most folks ain't got the patience to simmer it long enough. An' broiled steak ain't supposed to taste like leather, neither. The way I always done it was to dip the steak in grease or butter, lay it on a skillet till brown on one side, salt and pepper to taste, and turn it over quick. You should have got a nice, juicy medium rare steak."

He looped his thumb where his blue overalls were fastened with red string, and pinched the torn crown of his yellow fedora. "I know," he continued, "you're gittin' ready to ask me about fried chicken. Well, you cut that chicken in nine pieces—two legs, two wings, two breasts and one back. Place 'em in cold water till the animal heat is all gone. Then you salt 'em, pepper to taste and roll the chicken in flour. Drop the pieces in a skillet full of hot grease, medium blaze. When it begins to brown from the bottom side, waste no time turnin' it over. And when the other side is browned, take it out in a hurry... don't let it soak in the grease."

Randle Reed likes to talk about England and France, and how the death of Queen Victoria left him stranded for a short while. "I was promised my passage back to the States if I'd come and cook in the hospital," he said. "Now I was back cookin' and didn't pay much attention to the Queen's health. Afore I knowed it she up and died, and thar I was. I got me a job on a big liner an' everything was all right agin. Yes, ma'am, I've had to look after myself ever since I was 10 years old. Ran off from home... couldn't stand my step-ma no longer. I had 10 cents in my pocket and had to spend a nickel to get ferried across the Arkansas River down there. Seems like I been cookin' for a long, long time."

With a ham-bone in one hand and a mixing- spoon in the other, Reed can concoct most any kind of a dish. For instance, the rare recipe of Ham Jamboli. "Cut off all the meat from a ham bone and put it to boil in a pot," he said. "Just about the time the rice is over a slow flame, then throw in half a cup of mashed prunes, a teaspoon of spices. Now after a few minutes' cookin' you've got a ham jamboli—and it's plenty worth while eatin'."

Make biscuits and skone-bread as two of his specialties. "I take a pint of buttermilk when I mix up the biscuits," he remarked. "Then add about one-fourth teaspoon of soda, one teaspoon of bakin' powder, the same of malted hard and soft salt. Mix 'em together and add flour till it's stiff enough to handle good. It used to be that the big folks wanted it so you could drop 'em with a spoon. Roll the dough out on a board and cut yore biscuits. They'll be light and fluffy. "Now for the skone-bread—that's a real Southern food. Mix up a pint of buttermilk with two and one-fourth cups of cornmeal and a one-half cup of flour. Put in a one-half teaspoon of soda, one-half teaspoon of baking powder and a teaspoon of salt. Throw in two eggs and whip up the mixture till it begins to rise in the bowl. If it doesn't rise when you're stirrin' it, then it'll be too heavy and you might as well throw it out."

The ever-present ham-bone still figures in string beans and Irish potatoes, served Southern style. Reed has no use for watery, tasteless string beans, the kind he encountered "up North." The most satisfying meal that he knows, is that of a good pot of beans an' potatoes, easy to make. "I use a ham-bone has been cookin' for 30 or 40 minutes. Throw in a pot of diced red pepper, one small onion, and let 'em cook till almost tender. Add new Irish potatoes, and let brown from the bottom side, waste no time turnin' it over. And when the other side is browned, take it out in a hurry... don't let it soak in the grease."

You've never heard of a Randle Reed Cottage Pudding for the simple reason that it travels only with its originator. It's an inexpensive and easy to make. "It's an ideal combination for the housewife. 'Cuz sev'ral pieces of lightbread in small cubes, about an inch-square, and place in a baking-pan. Grate nutmeg over the dry cubes. Beat together two eggs, one cup of sugar, one pint of sweet milk and pour it over the bread. Place in the oven at about 80 degrees. Bake until the mixture begins to bubble and thicken. Let it set till cool and take out in spoonfuls. Now I suppose you want a sauce to serve with the pudding. Slice two lemons... add a cup of sugar and one teaspoon of cornstarch. Cook slowly until the sauce gets thick enough to serve."

PRICOT Chutney is another Southern dessert. "Bake just an ordinary sponge cake," said Reed. "Then turn the cake bottom upwards and cover with stewed apricots. Shake spice over the apricots. Then beat the whites of three eggs until very stiff and flavor with vanilla extract. Spread the egg white over the apricots with a spatula, sprinkling the top with a little sugar. Place in a hot oven (about 40 degrees) for about seven minutes. Serve with whipped cream."

Candy jam sweet potatoes is a Southern dish that has made good throughout the country. Men usually have a weakness for sweet potatoes cooked in this manner. "It's a real Southern dish," concluded Reed. "It's to be told three or four sweet potatoes until they're very tender,

Then remove the jackets and slice them in four parts, long ways. Grate nutmeg over them and cover with plenty of sugar. Put in a hot oven and bake for almost 30 minutes. You can serve sweet potatoes with most any sort of a meal."

As soon as Charles Zvonik Jr. was able to crawl, a small dog was given to him, as playmate and companion. On Saturday last, little Charles, 17 months old, died, killed by his dog-playmate. The dog had shown signs of bad temper, due to the heat, and was chained. The little boy went to the kennel, "threw his arms around the dog's neck with childish confidence and was bitten severely." The child's mother arrived "in time to see the dog on top of the child and tearing at him as though he were a rag doll. Parents should know that it is dangerous to leave a child alone with a carnivorous quadruped. The killing instinct may revive at any moment."

Berlin reports that the restaurant and other resorts have "gone back to the old German music." There is less of the fierce Nazi-Hitler sort of song and tune, more of the old-fashioned German softness.

The recent period of killing has evidently turned the Germans back toward old habits.

Conventions For Residents And Strangers

The Newcomer to Any Locality Must Await Friendly Advances.

By Emily Post

Dear Mrs. Post: MOVED to this town two months ago as a bride, and the other day two ladies from a church of my own denomination came to see me, but had to leave cards in my absence. Will I be expected to return these calls? They did not leave any cards of their husbands and I am sure they came in the interests of the church.

Answer: Whether or not they came because of their interest in a new church member or whether they came as neighbors, their intentions were obviously friendly. You should return their visits within a few days. "Within the rule, but in three or four days would be more appreciative. If they are out, leave your own card—just as they left theirs on you. But if you have a Mr. and Mrs. Card, it will be equally proper to leave that.

Dear Mrs. Post: A college friend of my husband started practicing law in our town several years ago. Then he was a bachelor and we had him to the house often. He is now married to a girl from out of town and although they have been back from their wedding trip for several months and at housekeeping, have shown us no hospitality.

Answer: As a stranger, the bride card not invite you to her house until she is invited first to yours. After that she should return your invitation—not necessarily in kind but in whatever way she can.

Dear Mrs. Post: We are comparative strangers in this town and I am only just beginning to know young boys my age. Lately I went to a movie with one and when we got home he said, "Aren't you going to ask me in for awhile?" My mother has told me never to ask a boy alone into the house when father and she were out. I explained this to him and he was amazed that my parents did not trust me. Now on thinking it over I agree with him and resent my mother's attitude.

Answer: If the hour was very early, it would not have been bad form to let him come in and wait for your parents to come home. But you should NEVER have explained to the boy that there could be any question of trust because you can't ask him now after what you said. Do you see? (Copyright, 1934.)

Spanish Steak Two pounds rump steak, four tablepoons chicken fat, four tablepoons chopped onions, four tablepoons chopped green peppers, four tablepoons chopped celery, one teaspoon salt, four tablepoons flour, one-quarter teaspoon paprika, two cups tomatoes. Remove bones from steak and pound well on both sides. Heat fat in frying pan and brown steak quickly in it. Add onions, celery and peppers and cook for five minutes. Sprinkle with flour and then add remaining ingredients. Cover and cook very slowly for 1½ hours, turning meat several times to insure even cooking.

Useful Furniture. In the small apartment where closet space is scarce, it is wise to buy a box couch instead of a day-bed. It will answer the same purpose and hold all the household things at the same time.

How a Movie Actress Changed Name, Looks and Personality

By Ann Sothern

HOLLYWOOD, July 8. WHEN I first arrived in Hollywood, several years ago, I was a plump young lady with very little idea of how to look my best. I had always had a tendency toward weight and as a matter of fact, been encouraged in that by my mother, who says young girls should look full-blown.

Also, I was a singer. I had studied since I was small. I sang for the public first in a church choir on a Christmas eve when my mother, who was the regular soloist, was taken ill.

Singers, in case you don't know, have to eat a great deal to keep up their strength. Also, they throw their voice from their diaphragm, which is one of the finest ways in the world to develop a "front porch." They develop big chin muscles and as quick as you can say "Jack Spratt," a couple of extra chins.

I still have no illusions about my beauty. I don't think I am beautiful, but I have learned several ways to make myself appear more attractive. I really learned them after I left Hollywood, where I was a stock actress, and went to New York and found myself a job in a musical comedy.

If you take my face apart, none of it goes together. My mouth is too small in proportion to my eyes and if I make it up incorrectly you see nothing but eyes looming out at you. I make up my mouth bigger than it is. I use rouge on cheek bones to make the eyes less important. I sometimes dab a bit of makeup on the tip of my nose. All of these things are important in getting a better facial effect.

I was always self-conscious about my smile, thinking it was not attractive, but I have taught myself to smile anyway, because there is a lot better.

ANN SOTHERN.

nothing worse than a "dead pan." I chewed a gum to keep my chin down and I also take chin exercises, stick it out 10 times a day. I lie on the floor and kick and I take various other exercises to keep that diaphragm down. And, yes, I diet. Diet is very important. And that's the Ann Sothern of today. I like her much better than the Harriette Lake, which in the name I used to go by. I think she looks a lot better.

Idea of Pre-Natal Influence Lacks Definite Proof

By Dr. Iago Galdston

THE common run of folk believe a lot about pre-natal influences—which just isn't so. Birthmarks on the child, for example, are thought to be due to some intensive experience undergone by the mother during the period of pregnancy. A repulsive sight or an unachieved intensive wish, they believe, will mark the unborn child. Mary, a well meaning mother, wishing to endow her unborn child with a love for music, has religiously made the rounds of concert halls. Fortunately or unfortunately, there is not a scintilla of evidence to show that any of such so-called pre-natal influences really affect the infant.

In contrast to these fancied influences stand the findings recently reported by a physician on the effects of the season of conception on the infant. According to these findings, the season of the year in which the infant is conceived and the first few months of pregnancy do influence its well-being.

In this study it was found that season affected the birth rate, the infant death rate during the first week of life, the rate of premature births, and the presence of umbilical hernia. Thus, the average birth rate was highest in winter, declined through spring and summer and was lowest in the fall. Premature births were lowest in winter and highest in the fall. The infantile death rate in the first week of life was lowest in infants born in the winter season.

In other words, among the children born in the fall quarter of the year there was a higher incidence of umbilical hernias, premature births and a higher infantile death rate.

Diplomats Consider Gate Receipts

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

AN Italian diplomat is over here to find out how Primo lost his title. Best way to do that is to put on the gloves with Maxey.

History shows that diplomats never put on the gloves. They are the matchmakers of trouble.
